3 SUB Bills Introduced

Legislature Finds It Hard To Set Up Priority On Tasks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Apparently, Ohio lawmakers are finding it difficult to determine priority on the problems they face.

By a 4-3 margin Tuesday, they seemed to feel the most important thing is to get 14-year-old motor scooter operators off the streets and highways. Four such bills were offered in the Ohio House as the floodgate was opened for the presentation of bills in the 103rd General Assembly.

Three bills were introduced in the Democratic-dominated Legislature to permit simultaneous payment of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) and state jobless benefits.

Close on the heels of the two top proposals were two other bills to permit county officials to collect higher fees for those who use the services of their offices. A similar proposal was approved two years ago by a Republican legislature, but vetoed by former GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill.

But, strangely, none of the 50 bills introduced bore the label: "Administration Bill." Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he had discussed none of the measures with the legislators who offered them.

Both houses scheduled late-morning sessions today in an effort to wind up the week's work. Serious legislative effort is due to get under way next week, but introduction of bills still will dominate the activities.

Sen. Blake Presents Fair Employment Bill

A fair employment bill was introduced by State Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry Tuesday as the flow of legislation began in the 103rd General Assembly at Columbus.

Sen. Blake's bill would make unlawful any discrimination in employment because of age, race, creed, color or national origin, and also specifies discrimination because of age between 45 and 65 would be illegal.

The bill is one of two such fair employment proposals introduced.

One of the big proposals in the Senate was a bill to prohibit discrimination in hiring on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin by employers of 12 or more persons. The Fair Employment Practices (FEP) bill proposes a regulatory division in the Industrial Relations Department. It would be headed by a governor-appointed administrator. The term would be four years and the salary $9,600 a year.

Asked whether the administration would sponsor an FEP bill, DiSalle told newsmen: "We will have a civil rights bill of some kind to fulfill our platform pledge."

Necessary To Purify Cuba

Rebel Leader Says Execution Of 'War Criminals' Justified

Executions Draw Fresh U.S. Attack

Criticism Mounting In Congress Over Wave Of Shootings

WASHINGTON (AP)—New congressional criticism was raised today against the wave of executions by Cuba's new revolutionary government.

The new regime, apparently taken aback by the storm of criticism provoked in the United States and elsewhere by the firing squad shootings, announced Tuesday night the executions were being suspended.

No date for their resumption was given. But a government spokesman said that when they are, newsmen as well as the general public will have the opportunity to watch the proceedings from military trial to execution.

One House member said that if the executions continue without formal trials the regime of rebel chieftain Fidel Castro stands to "forfeit the respect of the whole Hemisphere."

The number of those executed was estimated unofficially at 150.

"It is regrettable that Castro is executing these gentlemen without real trials," said Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind).

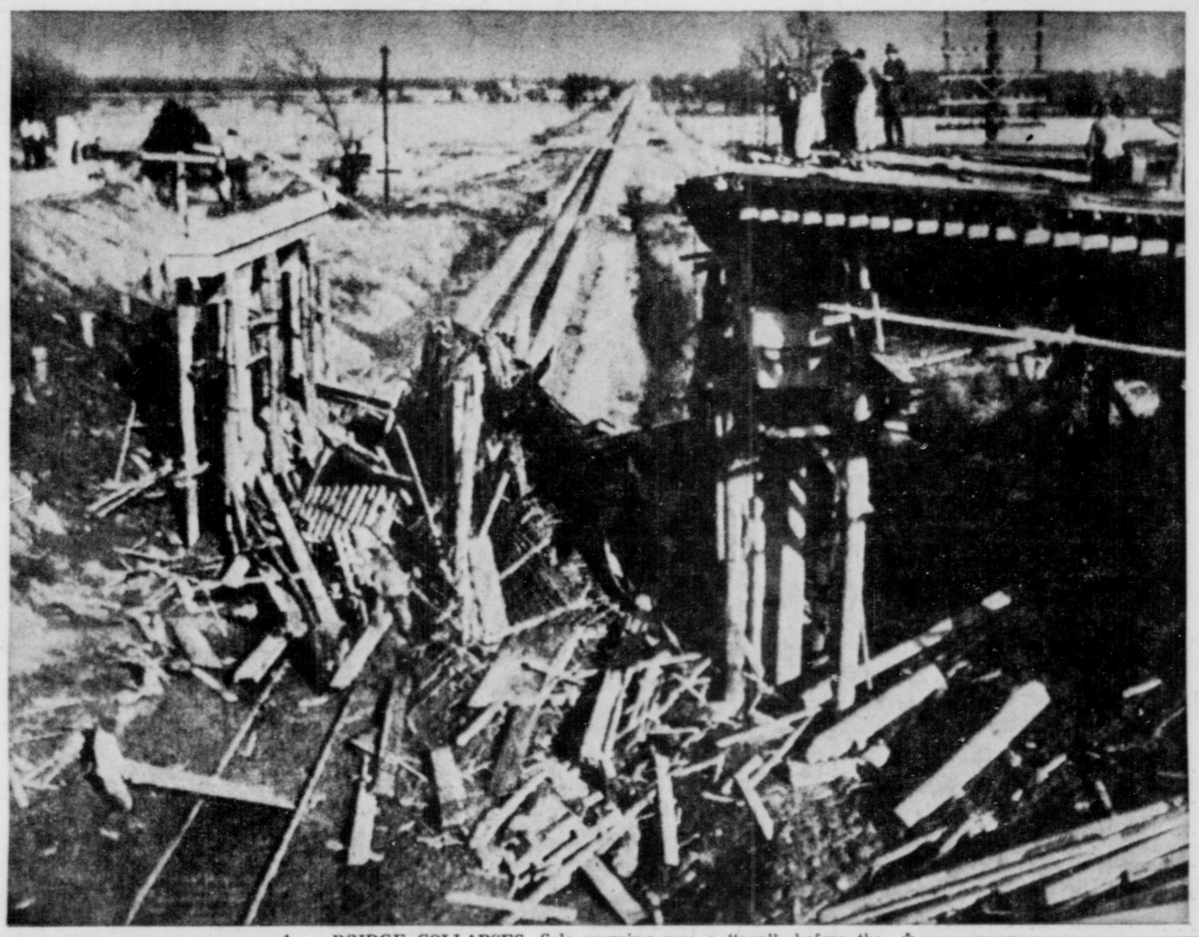

Capehart, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and its Latin American Affairs subcommittee, told a reporter:

"These (executions) appear to be the actions of a dictator or someone demanding revenge. It is a poor way to try to win support and confidence of the public."

Another member of the same subcommittee, Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt), said if the new regime continues widespread executions it "can lose a great deal of public support."

Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore), a specialist in Latin American affairs, said that considering the number of people involved in the revolution he doesn't regard the executions as a "blood bath"—a term used Monday by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore). However, Porter added:

"The whole purpose of the revolution is gainsaid if they have wholesale shootings without trials. They will forfeit the respect of the whole hemisphere."

BRIDGE COLLAPSES. Sole warning was a "pop", before the half-million dollar span near Memphis, Tenn., collapsed with a roar Tuesday. Tons of debris—wood, steel and concrete fell to the railroad tracks below, carrying eight workmen, all alive and hospitalized. The men were dug out of the debris which included almost 90 cubic yards of fresh concrete poured into the bridge framework. (UPI Telephoto)

Statements Conflict In Purge Topic

Presidential Aide Denies Shootings Have Been Halted

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Rebel leader Fidel Castro contends the executions springing from his civil war victory are necessary to purify Cuba after six years of dictatorial rule.

The future course of the revolutionary purge was a subject of conflicting statements, but Castro made clear in a speech Tuesday night he considers the shooting of "war criminals" justified.

Amid mounting criticism abroad, rebel firing squads have executed more than 150 persons on charges of murder, torture and other high crimes during the regime of President Fulgencio Batista, who fled two weeks ago. It is estimated 3,000 others face summary court trials, many of which have been held in secret.

Castro, now chief of the Cuban armed forces, took note of an adverse reaction within the United States in his speech to the Havana Lions Club.

"Why didn't the Americans attack when the Batista government was executing people en masse?" he asked.

Those who have killed now were executed to demonstrate that they could not get away with murder and crimes against the people, Castro said.

A similar defense had been offered in a press statement by the provisional government's foreign minister, Roberto Agramonte.

Agramonte declared that if the new regime did not mete out swift justice, the people would take the law into their own hands to avenge the torture and murder of an estimated 20,000 Cubans by Batista police and troops.

A presidential palace spokesman was quoted Tuesday night by a government press source as saying the government had ordered the suspension of all executions. The order was reported to have followed a conference between Castro and the man he installed as provisional president, Manuel Urrutia.

A presidential secretary today denied the executions had been suspended. He also denied Castro and Urrutia had met Tuesday. The secretary told reporters assigned to the presidential palace the executions in fact were continuing in accordance with due process of law.

But no specific instances of new activity by the firing squads were reported immediately.

Both the statement of the presidential secretary and of the press source Tuesday night said the names of the accused and the charges against them would be made available to newsmen. Reporters also were invited to cover the trials.

U.S. Studies Its Policy On German Unity

Hints Modification If Bonn And Allies Agree On New Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may be willing to modify its policy on German reunification if it can get West Germany and other Allies to agree on some revised formula.

The whole German situation is under intensive review in the State Department in preparation for new exchanges on the subject with the Soviet government.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles expect to discuss Germany, including Berlin and the reunification problem, in talks with Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan Friday and Saturday.

Dulles gave the tipoff on possible modification of the U. S. stand at a news conference Tuesday. He said reunification of East and West Germany through free elections—the formula the Allies have backed for years—is not the only method by which East and West Germany could be merged. But he declined under questioning to specify what other methods were possible.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has always opposed any alteration of this formula.

The Soviet government—in spite of an apparent agreement to such elections at Geneva in 1955—has insisted on a merger worked out directly between the East and West German regimes.

Judge Waits Court's Action In Vote Probe

U.S. Tribunal To Decide If He Must Pay For Defiance

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A young Alabama judge waited expectantly for a former college classmate to say today whether he must go to jail for disobeying a federal court order to produce vote registration records.

The fate of Circuit Judge George C. Wallace of Clayton, Ala., was expected to be decided by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. at a hearing scheduled for 9:30 a.m.

Johnson twice ordered the 39-year-old Wallace to make the registration files in Barbour and Bullock counties available to Civil Rights Commission agents who are checking complaints of discrimination against prospective Negro voters.

Wallace instead gave the records to county grand juries, which in turn agreed to let the federal agents inspect them in the presence of two members of each jury.

Johnson could hold Wallace in contempt and send him to jail for failure to comply with the federal court order.

Or, since the civil rights investigators were given access to the files by the grand juries, the federal judge might decide the purpose of his decree, if not the letter, had been carried out.

The Alabama judge, runnerup in the race for governor in the Democratic primaries last spring, gave no instructions to the jurors in turning the records over to them.

Chester Area Youth Suffers Rifle Wound

A Chester rural area youth is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a gunshot wound of the back received during "target practice" with a 15-year - old companion Tuesday near the Washington School Rd., three - quarters of a mile north of the Chester city limits.

Larry Adkins, 17, of the Fairview Rd., was shot with a .22-caliber rifle which discharged when dropped by his companion, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said Adkins and the younger youth, Daniel Edwin Smith, 15, were "pinging" away at cans and bottles along the rural road. Smith had scrambled over a hillside after more targets and upon returning, slipped and fell, dropping the rifle, they said.

The gun discharged about 10 feet from Adkins. The younger boy was to report with his parents today at the office of William Paolisso, county probation officer.

Cunningham Motion Will Be Heard Jan. 23

Due to a conflict in the docket, the hearing of Ira Cunningham's motion to quash an indictment of attempted bribery of a prospective juror will be held Jan. 23 instead of Jan. 26.

Norman Ward, assignment commissioner in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon, said the hearing will be held before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who already has a case set for Jan. 26.

The former East Liverpool policeman was indicted in November by the recalled September Grand Jury. He was arraigned Jan. 5.

Ike 'Juggling Act' Attacked By Democrats

Budget-Balancing, Tax Cut Talk Hit As Aim To Fool People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats assailed the administration budget-balancing pledges and tax cutting talk today as part of a fiscal juggling act they said is aimed at fooling the people.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, assistant Senate Democratic leader, challenged statements of Republican congressional leaders that the new budget will show a 100-million-dollar surplus and that tax cuts may be possible in two or three years. He said such claims won't hold water.

Mansfield and other Democrats contend President Eisenhower plans to balance a 77-billion-dollar budget by estimating revenues at a far higher level than they are likely to reach.

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif) said in a separate interview Congress will take a good look at what he said promises to be a "pipe dream" budget, to be submitted by Eisenhower next Monday.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he is certain Congress is going to vote all of the funds it believes are needed for defense whether it balances the budget or not.

Man, Woman Arrested

Fireman Claimed In Pittsburgh Fire

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A fireman perished and an apartment building was damaged early today in a fire which officials said apparently resulted from an argument between the building's handyman and a woman custodian.

Detectives arrested Ernest Goler, 41, and Miss Ann Owens, 49.

Officers said Goler and Miss Owens—Negroes who lived in the basement of the building—accused each other of starting the blaze. Both were charged with suspicion of felony.

Detectives said stories given by Goler and Miss Owens indicated they quarreled while drinking in their basement quarters.

Goler was quoted as saying Miss Owens threw lighted matches into a storage bin. Miss Owens told detectives Goler had been tossing matches around the basement.

Both said they attempted to fight the blaze before flames drove them out.

The fire spread swiftly through the three-story brick structure near the University of Pittsburgh campus in the Oakland section about three miles from downtown.

Occupants of the 12 apartments fled, many in nightclothing, into near-freezing temperatures.

Fire Chief Stephen Adley estimated damage at $40,000.

The dead fireman, Bartley O'Malley, 34, was trapped on the second floor and overcome by smoke. Three other firemen were treated for smoke poisoning and injuries. Four more were injured slightly in the collision of their truck and an auto en route to the fire.

James Pastore Enters For Salineville Mayor

James A. Pastore filed today with the County Election Board to seek the Democratic nomination for mayor of Salineville at the May 5 primaries. It is his third bid for the office.

Pastore, unemployed, formerly worked at the Mullins Manufacturing Co. plant in Salem. He previously served a term on the Salineville Council. Married and the father of three children — including a son in the Army and another in the Navy — Pastore is a member of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Lodges in Salineville and the Eagles and Moose Lodges in East Liverpool.

The incumbent Salineville mayor is Karl Lindner, a Republican, who has announced for a new term.

Meanwhile, City Solicitor Jack H. Cohen of East Palestine filed for renomination on the Republican ticket.

Paraguay's Dictator Seen Facing Revolt

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—An Argentine newspaper says another Latin-American dictator faces rebellion.

He is President Alfredo Stroessner of neighboring Paraguay. The newspaper Nacion said Tuesday that informed sources in Asuncion, Paraguay's capital, reported defiance of the dictator in the Chaco of northwest Paraguay.

Aliquippa Trio Indicted For Hancock Case

Grand Jury Returns 10 Complaints After Day's Investigation

Three Pennsylvania men charged with the armed robbery-kidnaping of a Chester woman in August were among 10 indicted when the Hancock County Grand Jury convened Tuesday at New Cumberland.

The trio, also facing federal charges, includes Donald Lane, Ronald Wilson and Wilbur Smith, all of Aliquippa.

The three indictments were among 18 true bills returned by the jury in consideration of charges involving 11 persons. One not true bill was returned in the case of a Weirton youth.

The Aliquippa men allegedly robbed Mrs. Dorothy Amedeo at Pat's Tavern in Chester Aug. 15, then forced her into an auto at gunpoint and drove into Beaver County where two then criminally attacked her.

Witnesses who testified before the panel yesterday were the 32-year-old victim, Russell Meskow, chief of detectives of Beaver County, his assistant, John Italia, and William Freeland, a Weirton truck driver who found Mrs. Amedeo shortly after she was turned loose in a

Demands Heard For More Money

West Virginia Legislature Launches 60-Day Session

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's 54th Legislature opened a 60 - day session at noon today, plagued with demands for more money for schools, roads, mental hospitals and other such services in the face of a shortage of tax revenues.

First on the agenda was the organization of the two houses controlled by Democrats, 23-9 in the Senate and 85-15 in the House.

The way was paved at Democratic and Republican caucuses last December for Sen. Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) to become Senate President for a record fourth consecutive term and for Del. Harry R. Pauley (D-McDowell) to be named House Speaker for his first full two-year term.

Named to serve as minority floor leaders of the two respective chambers were Sen. John E. Carrigan (R-Marshall) and Del. George H. Seibert Jr. (R-Ohio).

Upon completion of the organizational preliminaries, the senators and delegates were to meet in joint session in the House chamber to hear Gov. Underwood deliver his legislative address.

Of the 100 delegates in the House, 41 are re - elected members of the 53rd Legislature. Forty have had no prior legislative service while the other 19, although not in the 53rd, have had prior service in the House.

There are five complete newcomers in the 32-member Senate. Two of these, however, Sen. J. Hornor Davis II (D-Kanawha) and Sen. William A. Moreland (D-Monongalia) previously served in the House. The other freshmen are Sen. Arch W. Riley (D-Ohio), Sen. Paul R. Moore (D-Jackson) and Sen. Carl E. Gainer (D-Nicholas).

Another member, Sen. C. H. McKowan (D-Wayne), did not serve in the 53rd Legislature, but served four Senate terms previously.

To Replace Cooper

T. Fred Edwards Named New Chamber President

T. Fred Edwards, commercial manager of the local exchange of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., Tuesday afternoon was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce to succeed William B. Cooper, who served two terms.

Edwards heads a slate of officers elected by the Board of Trustees at its first 1959 meeting following a report from a nominating committee comprised of Robert E. Boyce, C. V. Hughes, Wendell H. Vodrey and Michael Turk. At the same time, terms began for seven new members of the board who were elected at the annual balloting in December.

Other officers are: Joseph M. Wells, first vice president and national councilor; Alvin T. Babb, second vice president; Gordon E. Starkey, treasurer; Malcolm W. Thompson, alternate national councilor, and E. R. Chandler, sec-

83 At Testimonial Dinner

Maggianetti Indicates Resignation Will Stand

Chances are remote that Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti will reconsider his resignation and decide to remain in East Liverpool, he indicated Tuesday night to a crowd of 83 church people and city officials who honored him at a testimonial dinner at the Travelers Hotel.

Praised by seven speakers for the part he played in the community's civic and spiritual life in the last year, the director replied that he "would have to give much thought" before withdrawing the resignation he submitted Dec. 15 to take effect last Monday.

He pointed out a month has elapsed since he gave notice of his intention to leave "and I have done a lot of moving around"—referring to positions he has been offered in private employment outside East Liverpool.

THE DIRECTOR AGREED over the weekend to remain on the job "a week or so" longer while considering a suggestion that he remain as director at a salary of between $6,500 and $7,000.

The tribute to the director was arraigned by the East Liverpool Ministerial Association and the United Church Women, a citywide organization. Virtually every church in the city was represented by its pastor, lay members of the congregation and representatives of the churchwomen's group. All members of City Council also attended.

Maggianetti was praised in speeches by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, which the director attends, Dr. D. Finley Wood of the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Clarence Keller, chairman of the United Church Women, Joseph W. Cooper and William B. Cooper, laymen of the Or-

Mikoyan Could Be A Guided Missile

A suspicion is current in Washington that Anastas Mikoyan is turning out to be a one-man guided missile in a new kind of cold warfare.

The possibility that he may have zipped over the heads of diplomats and scored a direct hit on the U.S. business community is said to be causing deep concern. In the strategy of economic warfare, which is believed to be the new interest of the Soviets, the deputy premier ranks as the leading general. He is Russia's foremost economic expert.

In economic warfare, if that is going to be the Kremlin's next big move, the United States would be left high and dry with a policy of military containment. Moreover, it would be left high and dry with the policy of waiting for the Soviet Union to make the first move and then reacting to it. It would have to learn to take the initiative.

This country's business interests would be vitally concerned by every move. To the extent that they could have a meeting of minds on economic exchange with Russia, as in the exchange of finished steel for chromium ore announced last week, they, themselves, would be part of the strategy of the economic warfare.

The net effect would be to put businessmen ahead of diplomats in the order of importance. That alone is enough to cause concern in Washington, where the government cannot help but be conscious of the way Russia's No. 2 man has gone over political heads to make hundreds of new contacts with U.S. businessmen.

He has made the impression of a man who knows exactly what he is doing and therefore can go about it with complete assurance. Politically, Mikoyan is no different than he was before. He is part of the political apparatus of the Soviet Union that President Eisenhower insists cannot be trusted and Secretary of State Dulles views with sour skepticism.

But businesswise, Mikoyan has revealed himself to be an ambassador of good will, even of good humor. It is small wonder that Washington is beginning to wonder how this guided missile got past its diplomatic radar screen. If this is the way economic warfare is going to be waged, the United States and its economic and military allies will have to develop new tactics in a hurry.

Victory Without A Winner

The comments of senators after the new rules governing steps to stop debate had been adopted showed that no one was in a mood to claim victory. Yet, a number of senators were in a mood to admit defeat.

The key to this puzzle was the senatorial consensus that the majority leader, Sen. Johnson, had accomplished the ultimate triumph of the lawmaking profession.

He had devised and carried out a compromise that gave no one a chance to gloat but left no one with a humiliating defeat to bear. The Johnson compromise opened the way to shut off a filibuster without confronting advocates of unlimited debate with the likelihood that debate could be limited in the foreseeable future.

The compromise gave the dissatisfied senators who wanted to firm up civil rights a brighter prospect of being able to do so, without giving irreconcilable senators who want to block further civil rights proposals a sense of impending defeat.

It split the difference between traditionalists and rules-changers. It split the difference between the North and the South. It gave the rambunctious liberals a little more leeway, but it did not give them a free rein.

Most important of all, it gave the senators a chance to settle a ticklish question without settling their own hash at the polls the next time they stand for re-election. Though it left no one happy, it made no one hopelessly sad.

Sen. Johnson says he would rather do what he is doing in the Senate than anything else he can think of in the federal government. His masterful handling of the filibuster issue shows why he feels that way.

He has mastered the great art of lawmaking in a republic—the art of compromise.

A Proper Decision

The Wellsville Board of Education acted wisely when it turned down an informal bid from East Liverpool to resume the annual Thanksgiving football game between the two high schools.

During the many years that the game was played, it was always a colorful part of the Turkey Day program, despite the rigorous weather that both fans and players had to brave on occasions.

And, all in all, the games were well-played and evenly contested until toward the end of the series when the pressure of manpower began to tell more and more on the Wellsville eleven. It wasn't a case of an East Liverpool boy being a better football player than a Wellsville boy. Rather it was a case of there being more East Liverpool boys than there were Wellsville boys.

It was for this reason primarily that the rivalry was discontinued.

Unless a realignment of enrollment should result — for one reason or the other — which would place the schools on a more equal basis so far as manpower is concerned, considered judgment seems to be against resumption of the series regardless of how much it may be missed by the fans.

Help Make It Work

The continued need for candidates of a high caliber comes to mind with each filing period before a primary election.

East Liverpool has been blessed recently with an increased interest in municipal government by many who in the past had turned their back on the whole thing.

But the feeling still seems to exist among too many that local politics is "for someone else, not for me." This is an attitude which not only finds too few voters, but often allows the level of government to sink below where it should be.

Political office is not alone a challenge to ability and intelligence. It also presents an obligation on the part of the capable citizen to serve his fellow residents in the best tradition of democracy.

No man or woman should be critical of municipal government if unwilling to help make it work.

Correctly speaking, there are but three primary colors—red, blue and yellow. All the complementary colors are prepared by mixtures. Scientists in their laboratories are capable of distinguishing about 100,000 different tints or shades.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

American lag in rockets is said by some to be due to too much bureaucracy, with its excess of letter writing. In most government bureaus nothing is done without writing a letter or answering an answer to the answer. Cut the correspondence and our moon rocket program would do okay.

We have scientists buried in Pentagon correspondence and engineers lost in file-and-forget systems. "In replying to my reply to your recent reply I wish to ask the view of your department on our more powerful thrust-motor, X-DK-105," one bureau writes.

It gets a reply, "Thanks for your letter with reference to change in our count-down system.

Please let me have your further thoughts on this, and what about nosecones?" This brings a note saying, "I agree with you completely in the matter of a larger launching pad."

NOW EVERYBODY is mixed up. The letters have gone to wrong bureaus and become mixed up with answers from agencies in deep confusion over the terrific burden of nonstop correspondence. Now some bureau that has not so far participated in any of the matters mentioned gets a letter:

Dear Sir: I do not understand your query about white mice. Are you referring to Canaveral, Nike Site 456, or the need for smarter lines and the choice of four colors in spaceships, none of which is in my department?

To this comes answer:

Gentlemen: The confusion is going ahead rapidly. Treat it as top secret. We are all out of the plastic pushbuttons which you mention but can let you have a dozen automatic moon-rocket rudders, which your letter indicates would be satisfactory. Send no money. Just send another letter.

At this point somebody should step in, demolish 50 per cent of all federal typewriters, destroy the file cabinets, get all letters straightened out from left to right and replace 70 per cent of all government operatives with people who have writers' cramp.

We know a racing fan who wrote Mikoyan, "I see by the papers you gave three horses to Cyrus Eaton. I would appreciate it if you would give me one horse on tomorrow's Tropical Park card."

How do you suppose a governor's wife feels listening to him make an inaugural speech demanding budget cut?

GOV. ROCKEFELLER charges Harriman left him in a hole so deep he should find oil. Maybe Nelson's public workout with knishes and salami sandwiches in the campaign wasn't in vain, and he may have to put the state on 'em to make both ends meet.

Marie Torre jail term highlights the fact there is a growing tendency among show people, who owe much to press, to blitz its members. Judy Garland, whose suit really put Miss Torre in hoosegow, for example, got her start through generous press boosts and has benefited by publicity ever since. Performers wallowing in fame and riches won largely through press notices have recently jumped all over newswriters, ignoring fact they would still be working in a glue factory but for the American newspaper fraternity.

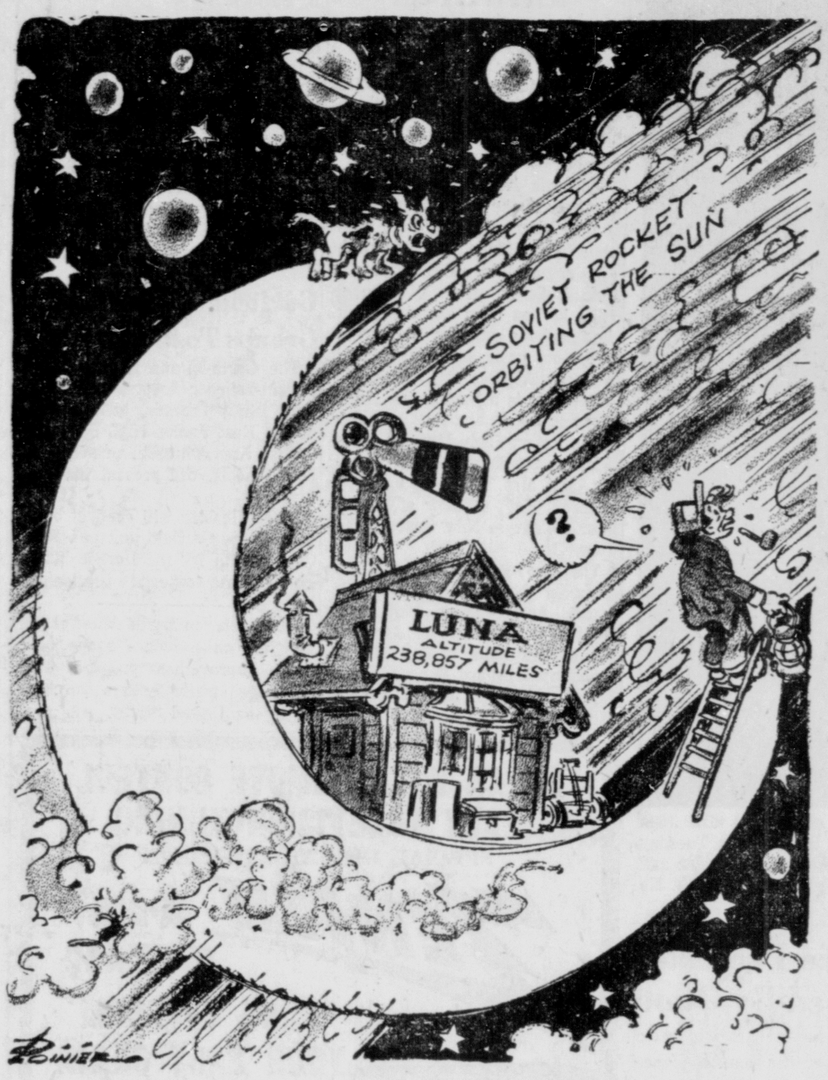

WOMEN'S HAT STYLES are out and it looks like a wonderful spring for laughter.

"Wagner told the dinner guests he was pledged to operate the city on highest principles of morality and would get rid of all officials ethically lax."—News item. What about a man drawing pay for 30 years as city employe, for some time on $8,500 year, going all out against the city's police's commissioner and urging a Hoffa unionization?

The potbellied stove is reported coming back, with 50,000 to 75,000 sold last year. We have one, long in a Gotham elevated station and it's a terrific heater. We like it, too, because it brings back boyhood memories of vanished heating systems the parlor stove with isinglass in the doors; and the kitchen range which doubled in brass for cooking and heating. Not so pleasant is the recollection of mornings when we had to sift the ashes, so coal could be used twice. But what a symbol of thrift it was!

Harry N. French, dead of a heart attack, was a top Gotham lawyer out of the little town of Nicols, Conn.

Just A Whistle Stop Now!

Meany Seeks Labor Law Action

By Victor Riesel

I am about to reveal one man's secret—and I hope he will forgive me. But there is a new artist among us who paints strong, colorful landscapes to escape the tumult and tensions of the day. And tense, jampacked days they are, for the artist is Mr. Labor himself, George Meany.

Victor Riesel

My scouts report he does most of his oil and brush work late at night. He has little time for painting in a day filled with problems ranging from telling off Anastas Mikoyan and Jim Hoffa to administering the intricate affairs of the world's most influential labor movement.

So it surprised many observers last Monday to note that the daylight-burning Mr. Meany tore himself away from his national headquarters across from the White House.

He rode through heavy traffic away across town to Congress for a mere 15-minute talk with the boss of the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, who can push laws through Congress mighty fast—if he wishes.

MR. MEANY COULD have saved himself a much needed hour simply by getting "Mr. Sam" on his private phone. Yet the leader of American labor joined his congressional lobbyist, former Congressman Andy Biemiller, in a personal visit.

They could have left unseen by other doors but they stayed as correspondents crowded in to interview Mr. Rayburn on the new session.

"Mr. Sam" said that the unprecedented visit sprang from the fact that Mr. Meany wanted a "good, strong" anti-rackets law. Mr. Meany's physical presence was obvious corroboration of Mr. Rayburn's sudden attention to labor bills in the hours before the congressmen themselves had begun trying their new offices for size.

Why all this maneuvering? The answer is in the strategy devised at a meeting of a special four-man AFL-CIO steering committee appointed by labor's high command to meet head-on the whole problem of racketeering before it tore labor apart.

The four-man group — Meany, Walter Reuther, George Harrison and Al Hayes — met last on Dec. 16.

The report is they decided to tell their political partners that they wanted an anti-rackets bill brought up and pushed through early in the session. They wanted a law on the books. Then it would be up to the authorities to prosecute.

Once the law is there for all to see, the labor leaders plan to tell the McClellan committee to fold its tenacious probes and silently go away.

The labor leaders feel they just can't take another full year of scandal tainted headlines. True, most of the exposures ripped the lid off Teamster locals but the public wasn't exactly reading it that way.

THE STORIES of the looting of treasuries and multi-billion dollar welfare funds hit the headlines with punching bag rhythm. For more than two years now, there has been no union organizing. For more than two years crime has replaced virtually all else as conversation pieces and conference agenda inside labor.

Like all strategies, this one has some fuzzy details because the other side has some ideas of its own. The other side is not exactly inconsequential. Facing the president of the AFL-CIO is the President of the U.S.

Mr. Eisenhower is keen on this one. As the President's opinions are translated by his labor aide de camp, Jim Mitchell, they add up to three big differences with organized labor — meaning there will be one big fight in Congress.

First, the President wants a very detailed system of union financial accounting of all funds written into the new laws.

Furthermore, the President wants his secretary of labor to have governmental subpena power to demand such an accounting and to back up the right to examine all books. Labor will fight this.

Secondly, the White House wants a law forbidding more than racketeering. The administration wants a bill which would cut the power of unions, such as the Teamsters, by banning the use of organizational pickets in front of plants in which they have no members.

And thirdly, the White House wants to wipe out the secondary boycott—which punishes a firm doing business with a truck firm.

When you hear the noise, you can bet this is what they'll be battling over for months.

Leaders Cost Money

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The sentimental gesture of the House toward Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts — after he was booted out of his job as Republican leader — may cost the taxpayers up to $40,000 a year.

Leaders in Congress cost money.

The salary of the 74-year-old Martin, like that of any other senator or representative, is $22,500 a year. Congress voted itself that pay in 1955. It has also voted itself various kinds of expense money.

But as leader of the House Republicans, which he had been for 20 years, Martin got some extras: A Cadillac, a chauffeur, and about $26,000 more for office help than is allowed the ordinary congressman.

He lost those extras last week when his fellow Republicans—apparently because they thought he was slowing up—bounced him as their leader and replaced him with Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana. Halleck is 58.

The thought of Martin, with a reduced office staff and having to journey to work like an ordinary member of Congress, appeared too much for both Democrats and Republicans in the House. They voted Monday to give him back his extras.

Halleck, as the new Republican House leader, will, of course, also have a limousine, a chauffeur, and approximately $26,000 extra for additional office help.

But Martin and Halleck aren't the only Capitol leaders who get a car and chauffeur for themselves. Others who do are:

Vice President Nixon, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, House Clerk Ralph R. Roberts, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, Republican Senate Leader Everett Dirksen, Senate Speaker Pro Tempore Carl Hayden, Senate secretary Felton Johnston, and Senate Sergeant-at-arms Joseph C. Duke.

Vice President Nixon and Speaker Rayburn get a salary of $35,000 each, plus $10,000 for expenses. While Nixon, as vice president, gets $101,000 a year for office expenses, Rayburn gets $53,000.

An ordinary House member gets $35,000 for office help, if there are fewer than 500,000 people in his district, and $40,000 if there are more than 500,000 in his district.

A House member also gets this extra expense money: $2,500 for office machinery like adding machines; free mailing privileges for ordinary letters; $400 for air mail and special delivery stamps; up to 3,000 minutes of long distance telephoning; 20,000 telegraph words free; $1,200 for stationery; plus $150 a month for the expense of having an office back in his home district.

This writer could not obtain a corresponding breakdown for members of the Senate on office expenses. A request for the information was turned down flatly at the Senate Appropriations Committee, at the Senate Disbursing Office, and by Senate Secretary Johnston. I was told this was pretty much of a secret.

A protest that taxpayers' money was involved and they were entitled to the information got nowhere. Johnston is not a senator but a Senate employe.

But senators and representatives are allowed to deduct $3,000 a year from their $22,500 salary for personal living expenses because they have to maintain two homes: One here and one back in their own state.

Members of Congress can pay 7½ per cent of their salary into a pension fund. A member of either house who has served at least five years and reached age 62 can retire on a pension of $3,000 a year. One who has served 30 years can get a pension of $18,000.

Whatever benefits members of Congress get were voted by themselves.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A joint installation of officers of Tri-State Encampment 354 and East Liverpool Encampment 107 was held in the Odd Fellows Temple at W. 6th St.

Atty. Frank H. Hoover, city solicitor, discussed Municipal Court advantages during the meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Wilbur H. Nagle, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, was appointed to the board of Carnegie Library for a three-year term.

Dr. John A. Murphy, city health commissioner, explained the purposes of a proposed health ordinance during a meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — An open meeting was held at the Garfield School to discuss the possibility of building a recreational center in East End.

Eight new officers of the retail clerks' union were installed at a meeting in the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters Hall.

Unstable Dollars

By David Lawrence

Budget Imbalance Threatens U. S. Destiny

The battle of the century has begun. How it turns out will affect the future of the American dollar for decades to come. On the way the die is cast in the next few months depends the purchasing power of the pay envelopes of millions of Americans.

David Lawrence

Will the dollar remain stable or will it decline still further? Today the dollar is worth 48 cents in terms of what it was worth just 20 years ago — and if the forces of confiscation have their way, it could go down to 25 cents in another decade.

The whole world is watching to see what America does. It affects trade everywhere.

The battle against a stable dollar is being waged here right now under respectable auspices by men in Congress who scorn the label "radical" but who would commit the United States to expenditures far beyond the President's budget.

Already the American people are being told by the political partisans that a "balanced budget" means insecurity or indifference to the military safety of the country.

To play upon such fears, the devotees of the doctrine of spending evidently believe, is the way to get sanction for big appropriations—more billions for missiles or expeditions to the moon.

THE INSIDIOUS argument made is that the President gives too much weight to the balanced-budget idea and that he is neglecting "national defense." Will this campaign undermine the President's influence and open the floodgates in Congress so that billions more than he recommends will be appropriated even in the face of a 12-billion dollar deficit this year?

Mr. Eisenhower has been absorbed for months formulating the new budget. He has held lengthy conferences with our military leaders and with our economic experts. Honest, patriotic, experienced military men, without any political bias, helped to make the new budget. It was no casual decision by one man that led the President to announce that he believed the budget for the next fiscal year could be balanced.

What is the biggest single fact about our military position? The intercontinental missile is not yet perfected but the intermediate missile can be fired from bases in Europe close to Soviet Russia.

The truth is, moreover, the Soviet leaders know their country can be devastated in a matter of hours. Both sides know a "mutual deterrent" has come into being. There's a stalemate on the military side.

The urgent question now, therefore, is not the spending of unlimited amounts on military defense but giving more attention than ever before to economic defense. As for those who say that military spending should be expanded, no matter what it costs, there is a simple test of sincerity. Would they support heavier taxes and—more important even than higher taxes — would they vote for governmental wage - and - price controls?

Why, if the "cold war" is so hot, shouldn't American labor unions and business corporations be held in check so that the price of the same bomber that the government buys today will not be twice as much two years hence?

For that's what has happened in the last five years to push a large part of our defense budget upward.

President Eisenhower's well-reasoned "State of the Union" message was printed in full text only here and there in a few newspapers of the country.

HE WILL have to go on the television, again and again, and issue more and more written expositions of his policy to make real headway against his opponents. The critics get more space in the press and on the air than do the defenders.

What is needed now is confidence in the nation's chief executive — the very man who commanded the Allied armies in Europe just a few years ago, and whose integrity and lifetime devotion to the military security of his country ought not to be questioned.

Would Dwight Eisenhower ever fail to recommend any military proposal that was really needed? Would he neglect the defense of America?

Partisan - minded people and those members of Congress with a vested interest in currying favor in their home states and districts through more and more spending on defense factories and local facilities, which could mean bigger payrolls for their constituents, are demanding "more defense" and arousing fears about the nation's security.

Only an informed public opinion can win this crucial battle against bankruptcy. For this is what the battle of the century in Washington really means.

Unless the American people can see through the maze of propaganda and alarmist talk, and put into proper perspective the selfish ambitions of some of their legislators, Macaulay's prophecy of more than 100 years ago that the American ship of state is doomed to destroy itself because it is "all sail and no anchor" could, indeed, come true.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I have been impressed throughout a recent reading of the history of my home town by evidence that some of the men who once towered so high were like the courthouse tower—not nearly so high as they seemed to my youthful eyes.

My strongest complaint against John Foster Dulles is that he is making it difficult for my countrymen and me to learn what is going on in mainland China, where the most meaningful news of the era is taking place, with U.S. newsmen barred from doing their job.

The best way to judge the quality of a singer's voice on television is to listen to it from the next room, sight unseen. There is one glamor boy TV canary whose voice sounds like an untrained choir singer, when it's judged by sound alone.

In view of the bitterness caused by efforts to unseat speakers of the House of Representatives who perpetuate their power, wouldn't you think congressmen would be willing to do for themselves what they once did to the presidency—limit the number of consecutive terms?

I am pleased to say my promise to avoid an over-exploited type of show business personality was kept on its first test. When the bosomy blonde appeared, I disappeared—and that was that. My grounds: No talent.

It is gratifying that the United States Humane Society is putting its best efforts into a campaign to keep unwanted puppies and kittens from being born. This always has been the source of cruelty to animals — the fact they were born into a world where no one wanted them. Ultimately, it may be against the law to harbor unspayed female dogs or cats, except in a commercial breeding establishment.

Letter To The Editor

Oil pressure is a wonderful power to have. Without it our different forms of mechanism could not operate.

I have even read whereby if great pressure is brought to bear in the right places more oil can be brought to the surface of the earth.

It seems to me that this can be a good example of what is taking place now. We, the public, are being oiled up by bringing pressure to bear in the right places.

I believe this so-called great silent vote on the tax issue spoke loud enough to make itself heard. The will of the majority cannot be disputed. A dictator can cause certain things to take place without the benefit of asking the people about it. In this, the United States, we have certain rights whereby the rights are for the people and by the people.

I believe that any further development of this income tax plan will antagonize the people more and more against The Review and the administration and defeat the purpose of good government.

I have read where the city's income has reached nearly an all-time high. We have court revenue, real estate, gasoline, parking meters, etc., and etc. The big question is, and I quote: "Why be short?"

I hear people talking, especially the ones who still owe a payment up to Nov. 12 say. They ask, Why should we pay any more tax? The city is not going to give it back like it was voted upon. Or others say, "If one part or two parts of the question were legal, why weren't all three parts legal?"

East Liverpool is just a place to live in. We do not have very much employment works in the city. If it were not for the supporting industries in adjoining states, we would be a ghost town. So if people wish to live in East Liverpool and spend their money here, why discourage it by making people antagonistic toward the city?

Electrical Workers Will Continue Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 300 Electrical Workers Union employes decided Tuesday night to continue a wildcat walkout at two Formica Corp. plants here.

Union officials Tuesday had ordered the workers to return to their jobs.

A spokesman for the striking group said the walkout stemmed from a fist fight last week between a steward and a foreman over wages for another employe.

He said the steward was suspended but the foreman was kept on the job.

The spokesman said the group intends to stay out until either the foreman is supended or the steward reinstated.

WAKE UP RARIN' TO GO
Without Nagging Backache
Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.
Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains, 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation, 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

East Liverpool, Calcutta Events Set

Ceremonies Next Week To Wind Up Services Of Ground Observer Posts

The East Liverpool Ground Observer Corps post, which will complete its duties Jan. 31, will be awarded a special plaque together with individual citations during a dinner next Wednesday night at 6:30 in the Travelers Hotel.

Final awards to members of the Calcutta GOC will be made Tuesday night at Calcutta.

The East Liverpool post will be presented the coveted Channel Master Award on the basis of selection made by the Eastern Air Defense Force at Stewart Air Force Base, N. Y.

—:—

THE AWARD consists of an engraved plaque which reads, "In grateful recognition of your particularly outstanding service in the protection of our homes, families and country."

Ground Observer Corps posts throughout the nation are being deactivated this month after some nine years service. Development of radar and other electronic locator equipment has outmoded human observation methods.

Guest speaker at the dinner here will be Brig. Gen. E. O. Clark, assistant adjutant general for air for Ohio and chief of staff of the Ohio Air National Guard. He will discuss "Air Defense — 1959 Plus."

Identification cards depicting life memberships with USAF team and appreciation scrolls will be presented to the members by Capt. David Z. Garner, commander of the Canton Air Defense Filter Center.

—:—

HERBERT COMBS, post supervisor, will receive the plaque from Oscar Leisher of Harrisburg, Pa., regional manager for Channel Master.

Maj. A. W. Masterson, state GOC coordinator, will make special awards to the press, radio and key organizations and individuals who have supported the GOC during its seven years here.

Charles Allison and Richard Moninger are co - chairmen of the dinner. William Cooper will be master of ceremonies.

The Channel Master award is being presented to the city post because of its outstanding record of service during "Operation Skywatch" and "for the enthusiasm and esprit de corps shown by volunteers." This marks the third and last time an Ohio post is to receive the plaque.

Although operating around the clock for less than six months at the beginning of full - time duty, the city post was in operation daily for five and a half years until reverting to reserve status last January.

IT WAS organized Feb. 14, 1952, at Combs' home, 1028 Ephriam St. The following summer the present observation tower was built on city property along Huston St.

The post is the only one in the state to have a color guard, directed by Ed Nelson, and it is believed to be the only post in the state to sponsor a Booster Club with a membership of more than 100.

Combs was one of two volunteers selected from 6,000 in the Canton Filter Center last October to view a firepower demonstration at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida as guests of the Air Force.

Final awards to members of the Calcutta post will be made during a special ceremony Tuesday night at the Calcutta Grange, which first sponsored the post.

The awards will be presented at 9 p. m. by Lt. David Lemasters, mobile training officers of the Canton Filter Center. Sgt. Harold Kelley of the Filter Center aiso will take part.

Airman 3C David Weldon of Calcutta, stationed at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport, will be among those receiving an award.

Ray Neidengard, county GOC coordinator and Grange member, will be program chairman.

—:—

THE CALCUTTA post was organized in November 1952, with Neidengard as supervisor and Ed Burns as chief observer. Training was given by Lester Hickman and Neidengard, who had been members of the GOC post at East Liverpool.

Until last year, the Calcutta post was manned every week for an average period of 54 to 60 hours and was on 24 - hour duty several times. The post never had a full complement of members, the duty roster carrying 38 at the maximum. Ages of members ranged from 5 to 80.

Neidengard headed the post until he became coordinator, then Theodore Ashbaugh became supervisor. When Ashbaugh moved to Columbus, Neidengard again became supervisor.

The post reported or logged 12,000 planes during the 9,000 hours operation of its first three years.

Since its organization, over 1,400 plane spotters have been recruited. During this period, the post served about 13,000 hours, involving 27,000 man hours. Some 40,000 planes were observed, and 25,400 reported to the filter center.

It was the first in the county to have its own post flag. It was made by Mrs. Gladys Ashbaugh and was in the form of a pennant.

Weldon made up one of the first GOC uniforms which was gray with lettering on the shirt and cap.

THE OBSERVATION post at the Vernon Dell Dairy was located in the vicinity of several air routes between Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and Akron. The post was rated first in the county in efficiency of manning the post in alerts, promptness of reports and number of observers reporting, according to Neidengard.

Members scheduled to receive life membership cards and certificates include Carl Kirkbride Sr., Laura Kirkbride, Harold Thompson, Doris Thompson, Bud Wilson, Rebecca Thompson, Jerry Thompson, Neidengard, Georgena Neidengard, Glenn Morris, Robert Morris.

Allen Pepin, Mary Pepin, Lester Hickman, Edward Burns, Gary Brown, James Trotter, Shirley Pepin, George Ashbaugh, Theodore Ashbaugh, Gladys Ashbaugh and Weldon.

Slated to receive service certificates are Neidengard, 7 years; Georgena Neidengard, Allen Pepin, Mary Pepin, Carl Kirkbride, 6 years; Glenn Morris and Hickman, 5 years, and Weldon, 3 years.

1959 Officers Elected By Salineville Church

SALINEVILLE — Officers of the Presbyterian Church were named at a congregational meeting Tuesday night.

Charles Johnson, Cliff Randolph and William Illig were elected elders, and Howard Adams, Cornelia Eisenbarth and Harry R. Shaff trustees.

Albert Eisenbarth and Howard Goddard were named deacons, and Mrs. Carola McCullough, Mrs. Ruth Blackburn, Mrs. Bessie VanRoyan, Mrs. Bea Hazlett, Mrs. Louise Johnson and Miss Mayme Graubner deaconesses.

The Rev. E. E. Bacon, pastor, presided over the election of the elders, deacons and deaconesses, and Mrs. Blanche Hanley, general chairman of the trustees, presided for their election.

Lunch was served.

Pickaway Man Indicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Floyd Francis, 38, of Williamsport (Pickaway County) has been indicted on a second-degree manslaughter charge by a grand jury here in the traffic death of Mrs. Esther M. Doughty. Mrs. Doughty, 52, of Columbus, was killed here Dec. 16 when the car in which she was riding collided with an auto driven by Francis. He was accused of drunk driving, reckless operation and driving left of center.

Chicago Boy, 14, Held Concerning 2 School Fires

CHICAGO (AP) — Police juvenile officers held a 14-year-old boy for questioning about two separate fires that broke out in a South Side public grade school during the lunch hour Tuesday.

A fire marshal said he believes a pupil started the blazes.

Firemen quickly put out the flames in two adjoining rooms on the first floor of the Shoop Elementary School on the far South Side. No one was injured, but about 40 teachers eating lunch and a few pupils who returned to class early were forced to flee the two-story brick building. Most of the 1,400 pupils were home for lunch.

The fire was the third reported in the school since Thanksgiving.

The Shoop school is across the city from Our Lady of the Angels Parochial School, where 90 students and three nuns died in a fire Dec. 1.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Disenchantment Hit TV In 1958

What happened in 1958?

I'll tell you what happened. The money quiz shows blew up in their owners' faces. "Anyone want to buy 10 unconnected dots?" chortled the comedians. Newspapers ran a want ad for isolation booths. (Wall-to-wall carpeting, air-conditioned.) NBC in some desperation tried to run an honest quiz, "Brains and Brawn," only to discover honesty does not pay — at least in the quiz line.

John Crosby

The brains knew nothing at all and when music expert Deems Taylor couldn't recognize the voice of Enrico Caruso singing "Donna e Mobile," the handwriting was clearly on the wall.

-:-

WHAT HAPPENED in 1958? The comedians all came back to a blaring of trumpets and clashing of cymbals — and took large pratfalls. Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca were reunited and that blew up instantly.

Jackie Gleason returned — and the show's off already. Milton Berle, Mr. Television himself, set only a small blaze. George Gobel's hour-long show was not renewed for next year.

The only large splash by a pair of comics were the Canadian cutups, Wayne and Shuster, whose elaborate and literate humor won acclaim and suggested that there were not intellectual reaches beyond the TV audience.

Ninteen fifty-eight was a bad year for comedy and for quiz.

What was it good for? Well, conversation came back, for one thing. Maybe it was just a temporary phenomenon but for a moment conversation flourished, as it hadn't since the days of the 18-century coffee houses, on David Susskind's show, on Ben Hecht's show, on Edward R. Murrow's "Small World," on Jack Paar's show, on Arthur Godfrey's morning show and on his evening show, on Fannie Hurst's show, on NBC's "The Open Mind."

-:-

SOME OF THE celebrated talkers of the year were Gleason on the Godfrey show, Oscar Levant on the Paar show, Malcolm Muggeridge on the Murrow show.

Talk flamed about everything from homosexuality to the low state of the movie business. People who had forgotten how to talk watching television now said how nice it was on TV. This could lead to people taking up talk again and, of course, turning the set off to do so.

It could but it hasn't. No yet, anyhow.

The talk shows had those great lost qualities that TV started with — spontaneity and unexpectedness.

-:-

BESIDES TALK, a couple of other things went big in 1958. It was a great year for dancers and drunks.

The first people to dance up a storm on TV were the Moiseyev dancers and — here I'm running the risk of being denounced editorially by The Saturday Evening Post — I thought they were great even though they hail from the Soviet Union.

Fred Astaire's show was one of the great ones of all time on television. It just goes to show what television can do when it half tries.

Gene Kelly, in another interesting dance show on "Omnibus," proved with considerable brilliance and ingenuity that the dance was indeed a man's game. And the City Center repeated Tschaikowsky's "The Nutcracker" on "Playhouse 90" with George Balanchine's choreography — this time in color, which it urgently needs.

As for the drunks, they showed up on the best original drama of this slow season — J. P. Miller's "Days of the Wine and the Roses" and also on several not-so-new dramas like "Harvey," which was played beautifully by Art Carney, and "The Time of Your Life," with a warm leading portrayal by Jackie Gleason.

-:-

BESIDES DRINKING, one of the more popular subjects of the year was assassination. "Playhouse 90" dwelled heavily on the suggested assassination of Stalin, which shocked the Soviet Union into tossing out CBS' correspondent in Russia, and later doing a documentary style drama of the St. Valentine's Day underworld massacre.

It was a bad year for live drama. "Studio One" and "Kraft Theater," two of the oldest TV shows on the air with long, distinguished records in live drama, ended their runs.

"Studio One" was replaced with a filmed Desilu show which had none of the originality or drive of the old live "Studio One" shows. DuPont still clung to the live shows and did some good ones, including "Wuthering Heights," "The Winslow Boy" and "Count of Monte Cristo," but the suspicion grew that the organization was playing it awfully safe in its story departments.

-:-

"SEE IT NOW," one of TV's few really distinguished shows, went off the air because CBS said it couldn't afford it while managing to afford such milestones as "Beat the Clock."

One small bright spot was the emergence of jazz as a fairly regular visitation on television with the Timex Jazz Shows and the Art Ford jazz party. Jazz seemed to be making a slight dent on the radio, too.

Still, I think the year was best summed up by Abel Green in Variety who wrote:

"A national disenchantment has set in with television. Just as it was once fashionable to say I haven't seen a movie in years, people are now saying, 'I can't remember when I turned the set on last.' "

A typical Texas "ten-gallon hat" holds about three-fourths of one gallon.

Generals Get The Bird And $100 In Fines

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A mixup over a game law technicality cost four top-flight generals $25 fines in the city court of Thomas County.

The generals, all retired, were guests of John Hay (Jock) Whitney, U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, on whose Georgia estate they were charged with overshooting the legal limit of ducks.

Two U.S. game management agents, Walker T. Harrod, in charge at Macon, Ga., and Paul Cole, Albany, Ga., brought the charges Saturday. The fines were paid by attorneys in court Monday.

Harrod identified the generals as E. P. Curtis; Frank Hunter, for whom Hunter Field at Savannah, Ga., is named; Ira C. Eaker; and Carl Spaatz. Eaker and Spaatz were lieutenant generals in the Air Force, both distinguished.

He said the four were shooting in pairs from blinds on the Whitney estate and he and Cole found each pair in posession of 12 ducks whereas the limit is only 4 each.

"They were very nice about it," said the game official. "They said they thought they were allowed an additional four ducks for their guide. This, however, is not permitted."

Hancock Sheriff Warns On BB Gun Damage

Hancock County Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs has issued a warning to parents of the Chester area concerning responsibility for damages from the use of BB guns by their children.

The sheriff pointed out many youngsters received the air rifles for Christmas and since then many complaints have been filed at the sheriff's office over broken windows and other damage.

Parents are liable for damages up to $250, the sheriff said. Children should use caution when shooting air rifles and be careful not to endanger neighboring homes, he said.

Evangelist Undergoes More Tests At Clinic

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham was undergoing further tests today as Mayo Clinic specialists studied the serious eye ailment that brought an abrupt halt to the churchman's Southern tour.

The survey included a general physical examination to determine possible cause of a ruptured blood vessel behind the retina, which has cut Graham's vision 50 per cent in the left eye. He said it causes no pain.

An early diagnosis by the evangelist's doctor father-in-law, Dr Nelson Bell, Montreat, N. C., called the malady both rare and serious. Dr. Bell said the condition had arisen from excessive work.

Grady Wilson, Graham associate who accompanied him here, said no report was expected before Friday.

Guilty Of Murder

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Common Pleas jury Tuesday found Washington Hayes, 48, Dayton, guilty of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of Austin Winton, 62-year-old kingpin of Dayton's bootleg trade. Sentencing was withheld pending a possible appeal. Hayes claimed he thought Winton was armed and that he shot in self defense when the two quarreled over the price of a pint of liquor July 20.

Pact Accord Ends Walkout At Harvester

CHICAGO (AP) — International Harvester Co. and the United Auto Workers union early today reached an agreement on a new three-year contract for 37,000 employes who have been on strike for two months.

Spokesmen for the company and union announced the agreement after a lengthy session that extended into the early morning hours.

The agreement, if ratified by UAW local Harvester councils at a meeting Friday, would end the strike, which has forced the shutdown of 15 Harvester plants, 7 parts depots and 3 transfer points.

Ratification by the workers would result in resumption of operations by Monday, a company spokesman said.

The principal gains in the new contract, the spokesmen said, were an annual pay increase of 6 cents an hour or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater, and the length of the new pact — three years.

Wages under the old contract averaged $2.55 an hour.

Pain-Killing Drug Hailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of a promising new drug with pain-killing power at least ten times that of morphine but apparently less addicting and safer was announced today by Secretary of Welfare Flemming.

Flemming emphasized the new drug is still in the experimental and testing stage even though it has already been used on more than 200 persons.

The new pain drug, now known as NIH7519, was developed by Drs. Everette L. May and Dr. Nathan B. Eddy of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases. They have assigned the patent to the government, for the public.

It first came out about the middle of last year, May said. It is made from derivatives of coal tar and belongs to a new series of compounds called benzomorphines.

"Of all the announcements I have been privileged to make here, this one gives to me as great satisfaction if not more satisfaction than any other," said Flemming. He became secretary last Aug. 1.

Board To Hold 10 Job Exams

Police Lieutenant's Test Slated Jan. 26

The Municipal Civil Service Commission has announced plans for an examination Jan. 26 to make up a new eligibility list for police lieutenant's jobs — the first of 10 such tests it expects to conduct in the next few months to bring its records up to date.

Although there are no lieutenant's jobs vacant at present, the list will be kept in the commission's files in the event of an opening. The Jan. 26 test will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall.

The deadline for filing is noon Saturday, Jan. 24. A $1 fee must accompany the application, the commission said. Forms are available to take the lieutenant's exam, which means a total of 11 may compete. The eligible men are: Paul Lemal, Robert Duffy, Charles Winters, William Dunn, Paul Carter, William Nott, William McDaniel, William Devon, Thomas Walker, Orin Smith and Robert B. Pyle.

The series of tests the commission plans will include competition to make up new eligibility lists for police captain and chief and fire chief and assistant chief.

Mayor Presented Key Club Data On Street Markers

A report on the condition of the signs that mark street intersections, based on a citywide survey made by the High School Key Club, was presented Tuesday to Mayor Fred P. Lawrence.

In a street - by - street check the boys noted intersections which need markers and others at which the present signs are damaged or missing. The information was placed on a large city map in code symbols, with an accompanying key explaining the condition of each sign.

Mayor Lawrence said the information in the report will be passed along to the street department, which will be asked to make necessary repairs. In many cases, the metal standards supporting the signs are bent or the markers have been twisted.

Director Hints He'll Stick To Resignation

83 Attend Churches' Testimonial Dinner Citing Maggianetti

chard Grove Community Methodist Church, and Harold Risinger, a pottery worker and member of the Gideon Society, who first suggested that the ministers arrange the testimonial dinner.

—:—

THE REV. RUSSELL Owens of the Second Presbyterian Church, president of the ministerial association, served as toastmaster. Invocation was by the Rev. Robert Farwell of the Community Rescue Mission, with benediction by the Rev. Raymond Miller of the First Church of God.

In his remarks, the mayor declared that some churches of the community "have shirked their responsibility to some degree" in "stimulating their people to think about the problems of the community and then act upon them."

"Information isn't enough without stimulation," he said. "You must be stimulated to think about the city before you actually will act.

"This meeting tonight is very encouraging because it is evidence that the church people are starting to awaken to their responsibility," Mayor Lawrence said. "I only hope it isn't too late."

—:—

"TOO OFTEN YOU hear it said: 'You can't mix the church and the state' but that sometimes is an excuse to dodge responsibility and opposition," the mayor said. "I think every church has a responsibility to the community. It doesn't have to take sides politically. If the ministers and the church people will do just one thing I think it will have a tremendous effect. They should remind their own members of their responsibilities to the community to stimulate them to think about the problems of the city and stimulate them to help solve those problems.

"I'm not giving up hope that Dan won't stay until he tells me definitely he is leaving," the mayor said. "In many ways, he would be foolish because I happen to know of some of the opportunities he has. If he does stay, it's the mark of a man who really wants to do something for East Liverpool."

Pastor Mostoller referred to "the tremendous task" and the "nerve-wracking job" that faced Maggianetti when he assumed the director's post. Despite his city duties, Maggianetti always attended Sunday services here — or in another church if he was out of town, he said.

"HE HAS OCCUPIED our pulpit," Pastor Mostoller continued. "I have never heard him speak but what he made testimony to his faith and the great moral and ethical premises by which he governed himself. He didn't lower himself to use the language that was employed in attacks on him. He wouldn't go down to that level. That takes a man!

"He taught us that the purpose of law and government is to serve the people," the minister said. "We forget sometimes that the purpose of government is to help us all live together in a decent society. I think Dan has taught us we have a personal responsibility —a stake in our government. He is a Christian man who has lifted our sights and has done some things that will not die if he chooses to leave."

"The people of our community had a right to expect the churches to do exactly what they're doing tonight," Dr. Wood commented. "The temple and the church and the synagogue have always been champions of good government. The love of God and the love of good government have marched hand in hand throughout history.

"Confidence in law separates free men from serfdom and dictatorship," Dr. Wood added.

—:—

"THE GREATEST moral danger any city can face is when the officers sworn to uphold the law openly violate it. Dan Maggianetti has stood for the things that the forces of religion stand for. He is an exponent of good government. He has loved and enforced the law."

Joseph Cooper, who is city solicitor, praised Maggianetti for his thorough study of city and state laws, asserting that it "upset the gamblers, loafers, numbers writers and some of the tavern keepers."

—:—

MRS. KELLER PAID tribute to Maggianetti for his efforts to improve the community and praised his ability as a speaker and teacher of religious subjects.

"Whether he stays with us or whether he goes someplace else, we all believe he will keep trying to make a better place for others to live," she said.

Risinger was singled out at the outset of the meeting as the man who first suggested the testimonial.

"We have made progress with this administration," Risinger said. "I hope we will hold the line and give the administration encouragement."

Replying to the tributes, Maggianetti was last to speak.

"If any good has been done, all the credit should go to the mayor and Council," he said. "As the mayor has indicated, many people have contacted me since I submitted my resignation. I have a stack of letters a foot high. Some are merely polite expressions, I feel, but I always will cherish and keep the letters that came from the youngsters because they are written from the heart.

"I STAND ON MY conviction to serve my Lord humbly and well," Maggianetti continued. "Titles mean nothing to me. The people are the solid foundation of good government. You get awfully lonesome sometimes in goverment. But it has been a wonderful year. I have no regrets.

"Fred Lawrence is a wonderful man," Maggianetti continued. "You people don't know what you have here. You have a diamond and you can't even see it."

Schools, Youngsters Points Of Contention

Amish-State Controversy Raging

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — On one side are Ohio's school officials armed with state law.

On the other are the Amish—a soil-tilling religious sect which came to Ohio from Pennsylvania almost 150 years ago—using the Bible as their shield.

In the middle are the Amish youngsters, about whom the controversy rages.

Schools and how long the youngsters go to school are the primary points of contention.

State and county officials have inspected some of the Amish schools and claim they are not up to minimum Ohio standards. The State Board of Education has a resolution which puts the responsibility for enforcing state standards squarely on local superintendents.

By a 19-2 vote, the board Monday called on the State Department of Education to give all possible assistance to local authorities in such enforcement.

And at Kenton in Hardin County, the County Board of Education has gone to Common Pleas Court to try to close two Amish schools for allegedly failing to meet minimum standards.

School Supt. Frank Blackburn says an investigation of two Amish grade schools near Kenton disclosed that a number of state-prescribed courses are not being taught, and that three of the four teachers have only gone through the eighth grade.

The Amish generally follow a policy of passive resistance, but in this case they found a champion in E. Guy Hammond, a 76-year-old semi - retired attorney from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

"I don't like to see people pushed around," says Hammond.

He filed a motion to strike out most of the county school board's contentions. It was overruled by Judge Arthur D. Tudor.

Hammond has 10 days to appeal.

Attorney Carlos Faulkner, acting for the school board, said no infringement of religious rights or restriction of number of schools the Amish may maintain is intended.

Although Ohio law says every normal youngster must go to school from the age of 6 to 18, many are excused at 16 to work at state-approved occupations. The Amish take advantage of this, but despite the sect's efforts to provide schooling, youngsters must sometimes go to public schools before they reach 16 and are excused.

One such case resulted in the Wayne County school attendance officer's filing a complaint on Nov. 26, 1957. It charged that some Amish parents, by refusing to send the youngsters to public schools, were failing to provide proper education.

The youngsters involved were made wards of the court. Two were surrendered and sent to public school, but one would not go voluntarily and two could not be found subsequently. The parents of the latter three were jailed after the County Welfare Board filed contempt of court charges.

The parents subsequently were found guilty of contempt and the three fathers fined $500 apiece. The fines have been appealed. The youngsters are believed to have gone to the Lancaster, Pa., area.

In April, the County Board of Education said it planned no further action, at least for the present.

Two more Amish schools — in Holmes and Tuscarawas counties —were ruled to be below state standards at Monday's meeting of the State Board of Education.

Henry Hershberger of Apple Creek, Ohio, who represented the Amish school committee at the meeting, said he thinks a court test is needed. School authorities point to the Wayne County situation, however, and question how much can be accomplished in the face of the Amish passive resistance.

Home Demonstration Registration Sought

LISBON — Township home demonstration groups planning to participate in the leaders' training meeting next Wednesday have been requested to report their leaders immediately at the Columbiana County Extension Service office, Miss Julia Shank, county home economics agent, said.

The training meeting on foundation garments has been set tentatively for the Christian Church here with Miss Shank and Mrs. Orena Haynes, clothing specialist from Ohio State University, as instructors.

It will start at 10 a. m. and concern cover types, fitting, selection and care of foundation articles. Coffee will be furnished but leaders are to bring sack lunches.

Man Shot By Woman After He Fixed Flat

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—Richard J. Fairchild, 22, of Corry, told police he was driving to Warren Tuesday when he encountered two women motorists with a flat tire.

Fairchild said he stopped and helped change the tire. After he was finished, he said one of the women said:

"Here's your reward," and shot him with a rifle she took from her car.

Fairchild is in fair condition in Warren General Hospital with a wound of the left shoulder as police investigate his story.

Commuters, Here's Bit Of News For You

CHICAGO (AP)—Here's a hopeful piece of news for you, Mr. Commuter.

Many people in high places are thinking of ways to help you.

It's a bad situation and the prospect is even worse. Motor vehicle traffic is approaching the saturation point in the scores of cities. And the main trend in the nation's growing population is toward the huge urban centers.

So 29 men—16 railroad presidents and 13 mayors and other city officials—got together Tuesday to exchange ideas on how to solve the commuter problem. Most of the railroads contend they make no profit in operating the commuter lines.

Here are some of the suggestions:

Government subsidies.

New equipment to lure motorists back to the rails.

A federal agency to buy equipment and lease it to the rail lines or to lend them money to buy modern rolling stock.

Elimination of the federal tax on commutation tickets.

Provision for deducting commutation fares from federal income taxes.

Giving the railroads a better break on their taxes, allowing them more freedom in setting fares, adding or removing trains and closing unprofitable stations.

A new U. S. transportation policy that would encourage the growth of railroads.

A committee of 12 was appointed to meet within the next 30 days to start work on a program.

Bryan also announced Kiwanis members will solicit motorists in a traffic block to be set up Saturday on Carolina Ave.

A film, "The March of Dimes," was screened, and Bert Byers of Weirton, Hancock County drive chairman, spoke briefly. Harry Ossman is treasurer for the campaign in Chester.

The litigation stemmed from a collision Nov. 26, 1954, at an intersection of another route with Pennsylvania 168 near Frankfort Springs in Beaver County.

Wellsville Sets Scoring Mark In 102-35 Win Over Newell

Chester Jolts Beaver Local For Seventh Victory, 66-50

Baldwin Hits New Season High With 48

By BOB DUFFY

Newell was never in the game, but a record-breaking performance by Wellsville kept a crowd of some 400 watching the scoreboard until the final buzzer as the Tigers rolled over a winless Wells High five, 102-35, Tuesday night at Beacom Memorial gymnasium.

The 102 points shattered the previous high for the floor, set in 1953 when Wellsville defeated Carrollton, 101-52.

The biggest contributor to the record was Dan Baldwin, who had the best night of his high school career. The All-Ohio candidate outscored the Newell five by himself with a 48-point outburst.

—:—

HIS TEAMMATES gave him a big lift as they continued to feed him throughout the contest. The 48-point total raised Baldwin's season output to 239 and shoved his average to 26.5 per game.

The 48 points, however, were not a school record. That mark is still held by Bevo Francis.

Bob Kiggans gained the honor of making the 100th point with 37 seconds remaining and satisfied a partisan crowd which had kept yelling for 100 points.

Mac Comparetta scored the final field goal which eclipsed the old total of 101.

It was a matter of the pupil giving the teacher a sound lesson. Wellsville Coach Jack McDevitt formerly played high school basketball under John Robison at Newell.

The victory gave Wellsville a 5-4 mark for the season and was its second win over Newell. The Bengals earlier rang up a 69-18 victory at Newell.

Newell dropped its ninth straight.

—:—

BALDWIN'S new season high was equally distributed over the four periods. He dropped in 12 points in the first, 9 in the second, 14 in the third and 13 in the fourth.

He tallied 18 field goals and was deadly from the foul line with 12 of 13.

In addition to his scoring ability, Baldwin found time to pull 19 rebounds as Wellsville took complete control of this department.

Scoring from close in on numerous occasions, the Bengals netted 40 field goals in 61 tries for a blistering 66 per cent.

Coach McDevitt's boys also showed high polish from the foul line, converting 22 of 24. The Bengals had a string of 13 of 13 going before Dan Baldwin missed a charity toss early in the fourth period.

Newell attempted 35 shots and goaled for a 37 per cent average.

With Baldwin scoring 10 points in the first three and a half minutes of the opening period, Wellsville held a 21-8 lead when the quarter ended.

The halftime score read, 48-13, and by the end of the third period had shot up to 73-16.

NEWELL FELL way off the pace in the second period by scoring only five points and could manage only three in the third.

Behind Baldwin in the point parade was Kiggans with 16. McDevitt substituted freely and seven other Tigers made their way into the scoring column.

Bob Stine was the only Newell player to hit the double figures with 15. Next in line was sophomore Bob Barnett with six.

It took Wellsville only two and a half minutes to race out in front 10-0 before Stine scored a foul for Newell's first point.

The Bengals hit on 9 of 15 shots in the first period to build an early margin.

From the end of the first quarter it was a matter of how high the Bengals wanted to go on the scoreboard.

The lead increased to 29 points midway through the second period and when the half ended Wellsville was coasting on a 35-point margin.

With Newell only scoring three points in the third period, Wellsville shoved its lead to 57 points after three quarters.

Wellsville also swept the preliminary, 45-21, as Wilbur Jones tossed in 14 points to pace the reserves.

Ron Nolan was high for the visiting Newell quint with 8.

Court's Ruling Seen Separation, Not IBC Downfall

NEW YORK (AP) — Truman K. Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club, thinks Monday's Supreme Court ruling will lead to a separation rather than destruction of the IBC's in New York and Chicago.

Gibson, who returned Tuesday from the Brian London - Henry Cooper British heavyweight title fight in London, envisioned two separate IBC's, though not necessarily under the same name, competing for fights from separate offices in New York and Chicago.

It was rumored that Arthur Wirtz, one of the IBC directors, would act as New York promoter, and Gibson would handle the Chicago promotions.

Gibson said he was "shocked and disappointed at the Supreme Court's ruling."

Hawks, Pistons Defeat Lakers, Royals In NBA

By The Associated Press

If St. Louis Hawks' owner Ben Kerner needs a clincher to be sure of that five-year contract he offered Coach Ed MacAuley Tuesday then he need look no further than Tuesday night's game with Minneapolis.

The Hawks defeated the Lakers, 110-95 in the second game of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader after the Detroit Pistons drubbed Cincinnati 112-92. And the Hawks did it in typical MacAuley-style.

The Lakers were without their rookie ace Elgin Baylor, out with a sore throat. Another rookie, Boo Ellis, took up the scoring slack with 18 points.

Cliff Hagan, with 25, and Bob Pettit, with 23, led the Hawks.

The Royals went down to their 32nd defeat as Phil Jordan led Detroit with 24 points. Jim Palmer topped Cincinnati with 14 points.

Beavers Fail To Keep Pace In Second Half

By CHUCK CRONIN

Chester High's basketball team, displaying too much all around court know-how for a school yet to graduate its first senior class, handily trimmed Beaver Local, 66-50, Tuesday night at Beaver Local.

Coach Max Tuttle's Panthers had their claws razor sharp in scoring their seventh victory of the season against a pair of defeats to strong Wellsville and Killbuck.

Beaver Local, falling behind early on erratic passing and other costly mistakes, kept in contention for only the first half. Chester built up a 17-5 first quarter lead, warded off a rally in the waning moments of the second period and maintained a comfortable spread of near 20 points for the remainder of the game.

—:—

IT WAS the fifth defeat in nine games for Coach Jack Frontone's Beavers, who turned in a good showing for a young squad striving to break into tougher competition each year.

Pinpoint shooting from all angles by the Panthers proved the difference between the two squads. Chester posted a 35 per cent shooting average with 22 in 60. Beaver Local shot about 20 per cent.

The Beavers had their best quarter in the second when seniors Jay Grubb and Frank Main sparked the club from far behind to a one-point lead, 21-20, with 3:54 left before halftime.

The Beavers enjoyed the lead for only a few moments, however, as Chester once more pulled away with ease to a 11-point margin at halftime, 32-21.

Three cagers on the Chester squad hit in the double figures to spark the victory. Clever southpaw guard Davey Brookes, scoring on drives and an occasional jump shot, led the pack with 20 points — his season average — by hitting 6 goals and dumping in 8 of 11 free throws.

—:—

RIGHT BEHIND was junior Bob Shaffer with 19 scored in his best night of the season. Shaffer, a 5-11 forward, connected on seven goals and five of seven free throws. Center Bill Myers, a scrappy rebounder with a dangerous jump shot from the key, also hit in double figures with 10 points.

Of Chester's other two starters, Frank Kenny had nine points and Bob McMahon six.

Beaver Local, now in a three-game losing streak, was led by Grubb and Main. Grubb tallied 17 points on six goals and five of six foul shots. Main, effective with a long set shot, had 15.

Chipping in with single scoring figures for the Beavers were a pair of sophomores, Mike Durbin with seven and Dick Barnhart with five. Thurman Allen, a junior, hit for six to round out Beaver Local's scoring.

Though shooting from the floor wasn't outstanding, both squads had a hot night at the foul stripe visited often by the Chester cagers.

Chester outscored Beaver Local by only four goals from the floor, 22-17, but rolled to its highest total points of the season with the help of 22 of 32 free throws.

Beaver Local topped Chester's percentage at the foul stripe, however, by shooting a blazing 80 per cent in missing only four of 20 tries.

—:—

WHILE THE Beavers showed a leaky defense at times, the Panthers played hustling ball the entire game and kept the Beavers guessing with a zone defense at one time and then a press at other times.

Brookes and Shaffer played outstanding floor games for Chester, while Myers and Kenny helped Chester control both boards in rebounding. Besides Grubb and Main, sophomore Barnhart gave indications of developing into a good prospect for next year's Beaver squad.

The game served as a tuneup for Chester which will face one of Jefferson County's strongest squads Friday night at Toronto. Toronto is undefeated with six straight victories.

Beaver Local also faces a tough foe Friday night at Weirton Madonna, a team that was victorious over the Beavers two weeks ago.

In the preliminary, Coach Dom Amedeo's reserve squad led all the way in defeating the Beaver Local reserves, 53-32. Elliott and Allison featured the scoring for the winners with 10 points each.

Jim Pike's nine and Reed's seven were high for Coach Bobby Bush's losing quint.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Looks as though we still have rabies among the local foxes.

Howard Myers, living on Hunter Camp Road, reports his daughter took the family dog back in the woods near their home for a little walk. Suddenly a fox appeared and charged directly at the girl. The dog tangled with the fox.

After the battle was over, the dog was pretty much chewed up and the fox had scampered off. The dog was taken to a veterinarian for rabies treatment.

Foxes are not listed as being wild animals so the Division of Wildlife has no jurisdiction over them at all. They are legally classified as vermin. Otherwise it would be illegal to hunt them on Sunday. As the law stands, they can be hunted anytime — day or night.

—:—

MAURICE YOUNG, on the Salem-Lisbon Road, has beagle pups to give away. The mother came to their home recently as a stray and he would like to get rid of the mother and all six of the puppies.

I never have heard so much mumbling and grumbling about the shortage of game, rabbits in particular. At the same time, the complainers admit they see lots of rabbit tracks, but they all lead to some underground place of concealment.

One thing I know for sure: mumbling and grumbling will not make the rabbits sit out in the open where they might get shot.

IT HAS NOT been too many years since the legal limit of rabbits for one day was 10. To my knowledge, the game protectors were wise to cut down on the limit, because no one needed 10 rabbits and it was a total waste for any person to bag 10. Not only that, but you could go to most any downtown market and buy rabbits from 10 cents to 20 cents a piece, hog-dressed.

With no apparent shortage, the legal limit for each hunter was limited to 4 per day, with 8 in possession after the first day. It was a sort of uphill battle to get legislation to stop the sale of rabbits and cut down the bag limit. Some farm boys depended upon the sale of rabbits for a little Christmas spending money.

All the protective legislation we have seems to be ineffective so far as keeping a plentiful supply of rabbits.

If you are smart enough to solve this problem, then you have an answer that career men have not been able to provide.

It would be interesting to know the sex of rabbits being shot. Do the females hole up and are we harvesting most of the males?

—:—

LOTS OF fellows come to me complaining about this or that and what can be done to better conditions.

I wish I knew the answers and had the know-how to provide the kind of hunting the fellows want who buy licenses. I even wish I knew how to promote a better feeling with the farmer and the sportsmen so there would be fewer trespassing complaints.

Do you have any contribution to make that can better conditions generally? Mumbling and grumbling won't bring a rabbit out of a groundhog hole.

Army Begins Search For Football Coach As Blaik Resigns

Cadet Mentor To Step Down After 18 Years

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army today began the long quest for a new football coach and athletic director while failing to throw a clue on the mystery of why a coach on top of the world should abruptly quit.

Earl (Red) Blaik, fresh from an undefeated season and the toast of the coaching set for his "lonely end" offense last year, resigned Tuesday, effective Feb. 15, his 62nd birthday, after 18 years with Army.

His only reason:

"This is the proper time to withdraw from college sports, as to overstay a coaching career is unthinkable."

To a man, Army brass said they were caught completely flatfooted.

One high West Point officer said "We were so surprised that we have no one else in mind. We're wide open for all applications."

There are several theories about Blaik's resignation.

It has been said he has a bad stomach and the steadily increasing pressures of the game are getting to be too much. It has also been said he was at the end of his rope trying to convince the brass Army should play post-season bowl games and thus gain additional prestige. And it has been said he wanted to be able to have prospective players tutored before taking the entrance examinations just as Navy has been doing.

The last two offer the most logical reasons. At the end of last season, when Army compiled a record of eight victories, no defeats and one tie, the Cadets were certain bowl timber. But the policy of higher ups was against it.

As for the tutoring of players before entrance, the NCAA acknowledged last week that the service academies had special problems and therefore could see no harm in the tutoring. It is possible Blaik pointed this out to the brass, got a turndown and decided to call it quits.

After expressing his regrets at leaving the Academy, and pointing out the strong position of Army sports, Blaik said:

"At the present time, there is no personal commitment to any future plan, though within a reasonable time I shall accept one of several opportunities either in television or business. Right now, Mrs. Blaik and I are going to take a short vacation."

Irondale Sweeps Aside Salineville

Irondale High's Irons took command of a 37-32 third quarter lead and went on to record their third straight victory and sixth of the season, 45-41, over Salineville's Indians Tuesday night on the Salineville boards.

Coach Les Douglas' Irons hiked their victory string to three in a row over their neighboring rivals. Salineville dropped its sixth game of the season as against three victories.

Salineville rallied in the second quarter to post a 27-25 halftime lead but managed to score only three field goals in the entire second half. Other points came on eight free throws.

Paced by sharpshooting Don Fraley, Irondale deadlocked the score at 27-27 and then went on to post the victory. The Irons show three defeats in nine games, sidetracked only by Wintersville, Springfield Township and powerful United Local.

Fraley rimmed 17 points for the Irons, slightly below his average of 20.5 Pete Allen was second high scorer for Irondale with 12 points, while Bill Chetock had eight, Gale Boggs four, and Lon Fraley a field goal.

Dave Gearin led the Salineville attack with 15 points, while Giannone chipped in with 10.

Salineville managed to narrow the score to 42-40 with 20 seconds left in the game, but Irondale quickly scored a bucket and added a pair of free throws to decide the contest.

Fairly, Howard, Miles 'Hot' Dodger Prospects

NEW YORK (AP) — Of the 16 newcomers on the Los Angeles Dodgers' 1959 roster, it is safe to say that a trio of young outfield hopefuls — Ron Fairly, Frank Howard and Don Miles — are the prize prospects.

Especially Fairly, only 20, who seems destined for a long and fruitful career in the National League.

At least, that's what Dodger Manager Walt Alston believes, along with other veteran observers who watched the kid perform last year. Alston is high on this left-handed hitter from Macon, Ga.

"Ron played 15 games for the Dodgers last season and I didn't see him make a single mistake," the Dodger pilot said. "I like everything about him."

After hitting .297 at Des Moines of the Western League, and .298 in 18 games for St. Paul in the American Assn., Fairly finished with a .283 average for Los Angeles. He had 15 hits in 53 at bats, homered twice, drove in eight runs and fielded flawlessly in center field.

Howard, ex-Ohio State star who received a reported $100,000 for signing a Dodger contract, was the talk of the Three-Eye League last year with his fence-busting wallops.

Playing at Green Bay, Wis., the 22-year-old giant batted .333, drove in 119 runs and poled 37 home runs.

The Dodger brass thinks that with another year under his belt, probably at either Spokane or Montreal, he'll be ready for the majors.

Miles, also 22, is a left-handed hitter who collected 23 homers with Victoria of the Texas League and St. Paul. Eighteen of these were hit at Victoria where he batted .325.

Last year he was tabbed by the Dodgertown spring training brain trust as the best new player since Mickey Mantle. He still has quite a way to go but the Dodgers are willing to wait.

Five pitchers, a catcher, five infielders and as many outfielders comprise the new batch of Dodgers. Bill Harris, a 28-year-old fastballer with a 14-10 record at Montreal, may be the best of the pitchers.

Sherry's batterymate brother, 26-year-old Norm, has hopes to land a catching berth on the Dodgers.

Bob Lillis, 28-year-old shortstop appears to be the best of the infielders. Based on his showing after his recall from St. Paul last September, he may win a regular berth.

Earl Robinson, University of California star who received a $65,000 bonus to sign, will get a trial at third base. The 22-year-old is a graceful fielder with a strong arm although his hitting needs to be improved.

Pro Tennis King Says He's Good For 5 More Years

MELBOURNE (AP) — Pancho Gonzales says he is good for another five years as king of professional tennis.

His most likely successor?

He picks sensational Peruvian Alex Olmedo.

"I don't see anybody around who I think can beat me," the tall, swarthy Mexican-American said today while enjoying the fruits of a straight set victory over his chief rival, Lew Hoad.

"I may have slowed up half a step and at times my incentive may not be too keen but when I get hungry and want to win a match, I can still do it."

Gonzales proved that Tuesday night before a sellout crowd of 8,000 at the Olympic Velodrome.

Playing fierce, killer tennis he smashed Hoad 8-6, 6-2, 6-3 to go into the Victorian pro final against Australia's Frank Sedgman tonight.

Hoad had beaten him in their last meeting in Rome four months ago and was favored by those who had seen the young, blond Australian crush Tony Trabert in the quarter-finals.

Joe Cronin Due Today Before Screening Unit

CHICAGO (AP) — Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, today will appear before an American League screening committee in an action which will lead to his becoming league president.

The 52-year-old Cronin, longtime heir to the position, is the only person to be interviewed for the job vacated by retirement of Will Harridge.

Cronin's appointment is considered a foregone conclusion. The selection is expected to be confirmed at a meeting of club owners in New York, Jan. 31.

Swogger, who has scored 106 points in his last three games with the Midland five, hit 15 field goals and eight free throws. Otto Pritchard was next in line with 11 and Len Clarke and Stan Yukich each hit 10. Chuey's 18 were high for Youngstown.

Minerva Rips Leetonia Five

LEETONIA—Coach Len Batcha's Leetonia Bears dropped their fifth basketball game of the season Tuesday night at Minerva, 64-49, in a Tri-County League battle.

Batcha's Bears had to turn in a good performance at the foul stripe to keep from being routed as Minerva showed a 26-13 edge in total field goals.

Leetonia hit 64 per cent at the foul stripe by making 23 of 36 shots. Minerva, now 5-2 for the season, hit only 12 of 35 charity tosses.

The victory gave Minerva a 3-0 mark in Tri-County League play. Leetonia is 9-3 in the loop and 2-5 for the season.

Lee Radler and Gene Leffler sparked Leetonia's scoring with 14 and 12 points, respectively. Jim Stout and Hardgrove each hit for 16 in leading Minerva to the victory.

Louisville Upsets Bradley As Mounties Rip Loop Foe

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The University of Louisville has been going down the college basketball ladder steadily since putting together a 21-5 mark two years ago. But once in a while the Cardinals spring a surprise.

Tuesday night was a case in point, when they beat seventh-ranked Bradley 79-66.

And it was a comparatively easy victory, too. Bradley trailed by four points at the intermission, eight shortly after halftime and by four again a few minutes later.

But then Louisville's John Turner and Roger Tieman began connecting with long set shots from the side and the Cardinals pulled away. Tieman led the scoring with 20 points.

West Virginia was the only other team among the top 10 to see action and the 10th-rated Mountaineers came through handsomely by trimming William and Mary 88-76 for their 42nd consecutive Southern Conference victory.

The Mountaineers, seeking their fifth straight conference title, put their league record for the season at 6-0.

In another Southern Conference tilt, George Washington defeated Richmond 72-64.

In the Southwest Conference, Texas Christian increased its lead to two games by defeating Rice 59-52, Texas Tech whipped Texas 64-47 and Baylor upset Southern Methodist 70-53.

Dartmouth took a 74-56 Ivy League victory over Harvard and Duke edged Clemson 45-41 in a tight Atlantic Coast Conference tussle.

Marquette blasted Valparaiso 96-74 for its 11th consecutive success. DePaul handed Notre Dame its ninth defeat in 13 games, 69-66. Virginia snapped a seven-game losing streak by rolling over Washington and Lee 89-46.

In tonight's most important game, top-ranked North Carolina State faces fourth-rated North Carolina. Other contests pit Xavier of Ohio at Dayton, South Carolina at Wake Forest and Yale at Army.

Notre Dame Head Defends Action In Firing Brennan

CHICAGO (AP) — Terry Brennan's dismissal as head football coach does not mean that Notre Dame is turning into a football factory, says Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, university president.

In a copyrighted article appearing in a national magazine (Sports Illustrated), Father Hesburgh defended the school's action in firing Brennan and hiring Joe Kuharich as a change for the better.

He called the move a "commitment to excellence, and the judgment that the performance would be bettered by the change."

Apparently irked over publicity given the matter, Father Hesburgh said:

"While I can appreciate the wide national interest in sports, I think it somewhat of an inversion of values that a university can appoint 20 distinguished professors, make broad and significant changes in academic personnel to achieve greater excellence, without attracting more than a slight ripple of attention.

"But let the same university make a well-considered change in athletic personnel for the same reason, and it sparks the ill-considered charge that it is no longer a first-rate academic institution and must henceforth be considered a football factory."

The recommendation to fire Brenna, said Father Hesburgh, was "made unanimously by the faculty board in control of athletics at its regular December meeting. The director of athletics (Moose Krause), while he does not have a vote in these matters, did agree with their recommendation.

"I studied their reasons, discussed them with some trusted counselors here and made my decision on the same basis that I would decide any change in university personnel."

Geneva College is a member of the Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Other member colleges are Carnegie Tech, Duquesne, Grove City, St. Francis, St. Vincent, Westminster, and Waynesburg. Geneva's Cliff Aultman is the conference vice president.

Miami Noses Out Ohio U.

By The Associated Press

Conference games highlighted Thursday night's Ohio college basketball play.

Miami's Redskins skinned Ohio University, 56-54, in an overtime after the Bobcats had led most of the game and were ahead 29-23 at halftime. Miami thus got a better hold on the No. 2 spot in Mid-American Conference standings with a 4-1 record. Ohio U. is 1-2 in the loop.

George Steele, with 28 points, paced Capital to a 91-66 victory over winless Otterbein, which dropped its eighth straight game in both Ohio Conference and over-all play.

Findlay used reserves in the second half, after taking a comfortable 37-18 advantage over Ashland by intermission, and went on to win the Mid-Ohio league tilt, 66-42.

At Meadville, Pa., John Carroll trounced Allegheny (Pa.) 90-70 in a Presidents Conference encounter.

In an intersectional battle, Detroit Tech defeated Heidelberg, 73-67, on the latter's home court with Mike Rice leading the way for the winners with 32 points.

Wells Athletes Await Banquet

At least 100 are expected at an athletic banquet honoring football and basketball teams of Wells High School of Newell Thursday night at 6:30 in the American Legion Post 114 home.

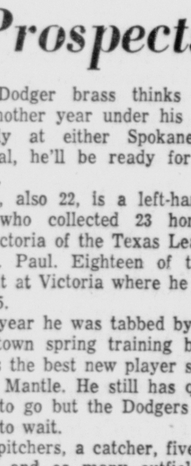

Guest speaker will be Duke Barrett, head grid coach at Mount Union College at Alliance. The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of East Liverpool will serve as toastmaster.

Special guests will include the Hancock County Board of Education and Wells High faculty members. The banquet is being sponsored by the Newell Band Parents. Fathers of athletes, who are planning to attend, must purchase tickets contrary to previous reports.

In 1958 New York State harness racing patrons bet a record total of $465,384,653. It surpassed the state thoroughbred mark of $450,663,190 made in 1945.

Midland Rolls Over Rival Monaca, 90-44, For 10th Victory

Smith, Lake Pace Scoring With 21 Each

Midland High's Leopards—soaring to their highest point total since the great Herb Lake departed for Youngstown University back in 1955 — thrashed WPIAL league rival Monaca, 90-44, Tuesday night at the Midland gymnasium.

Giant center Movie Smith and junior standout Gene Lake — a cousin of the collegiate Penguin ace — dumped in 21 points each for Midland to lead the landslide victory.

It was the highest number of points for a Midland squad since a 101-46 victory over Mars on Jan. 1, 1955. Herb Lake, now a senior at Youngstown University, dumped in 53 points in that game to break the individual single game record of 33 set by Tony Bernardi at Chester in the 1951-52 season.

Midland, defeated only by Farrell, Youngstown Chaney and New Brighton, is now 10-3 for the season. The game served as a "warm-up" for encounters with East Liverpool Saturday night and another against WPIAL pace setter Hopewell (4-0) Jan. 20.

Hopewell appears the team to beat in the Section 8 race after bumping off New Brighton last night, 69-64. New Brighton trounced Midland on Tuesday, 86-60.

Midland toyed with Monaca for only one quarter before pulling away to a 22-point lead at halftime. After three periods, the Leopards had built up a lead of 35 points, 67-32.

Midland hit 35 per cent from the floor in nearing the century mark, coming on 35 connections on 75 attempts. Monaca, coached by Otto Pritchard, former Geneva College cager, shot only 26 per cent on 16 goals in 70 tries.

The defeat left Monaca with a 1-9 season record and an 0-3 mark in Section 8 play.

Smith, 6-4, pulled in 17 rebounds while scoring 21 points on nine goals and three free throws. Lake showed seven goals and seven of 10 foul shots.

Backing the attack were Steve Yetso with 13 points and Nick Vuckovich with 11.

Antoline was high scorer for the Monaca five with 11 points. Midland, as was expected, also won the battle of the rebounds with 66 to 32 by Monaca. Yetso had 12 of Midland's rebounds.

In the preliminary, the Midland reserves also proved superior by whipping Monaca's reserve five, 59-48. Allen Oberg, D'Angelo and Mirage each popped in 13 points to spark the victory.

Temple Names Casale As Athletic Director

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ernest C. (Ernie) Casale, an assistant mathematics professor working on his Ph. D. degree, today was appointed athletic director at Temple University.

The 39-year-old prof has coached varsity baseball since 1953 and has provided some of Temple's most successful teams.

He replaces Josh Cody, who is retiring in June after six years in the post and more than 30 years as a college baseball, basketball and football coach.

Hawks Offer MaCauley Five-Year Contract

ST. LOUIS (AP) —The St. Louis Hawks basketball team, sometimes called the graveyard of coaches, could have the same pilot for the next five years.

Fiery Ben Kerner, who has disposed of coaches four times in 23 months, has made an about face and offered the job to Easy Ed MaCauley, who now has it, with a five-year contract and a total salary "in excess of $100,000.

Easy Ed has until Feb. 15 to make his decision, he told sportswriters Tuesday at a dinner.

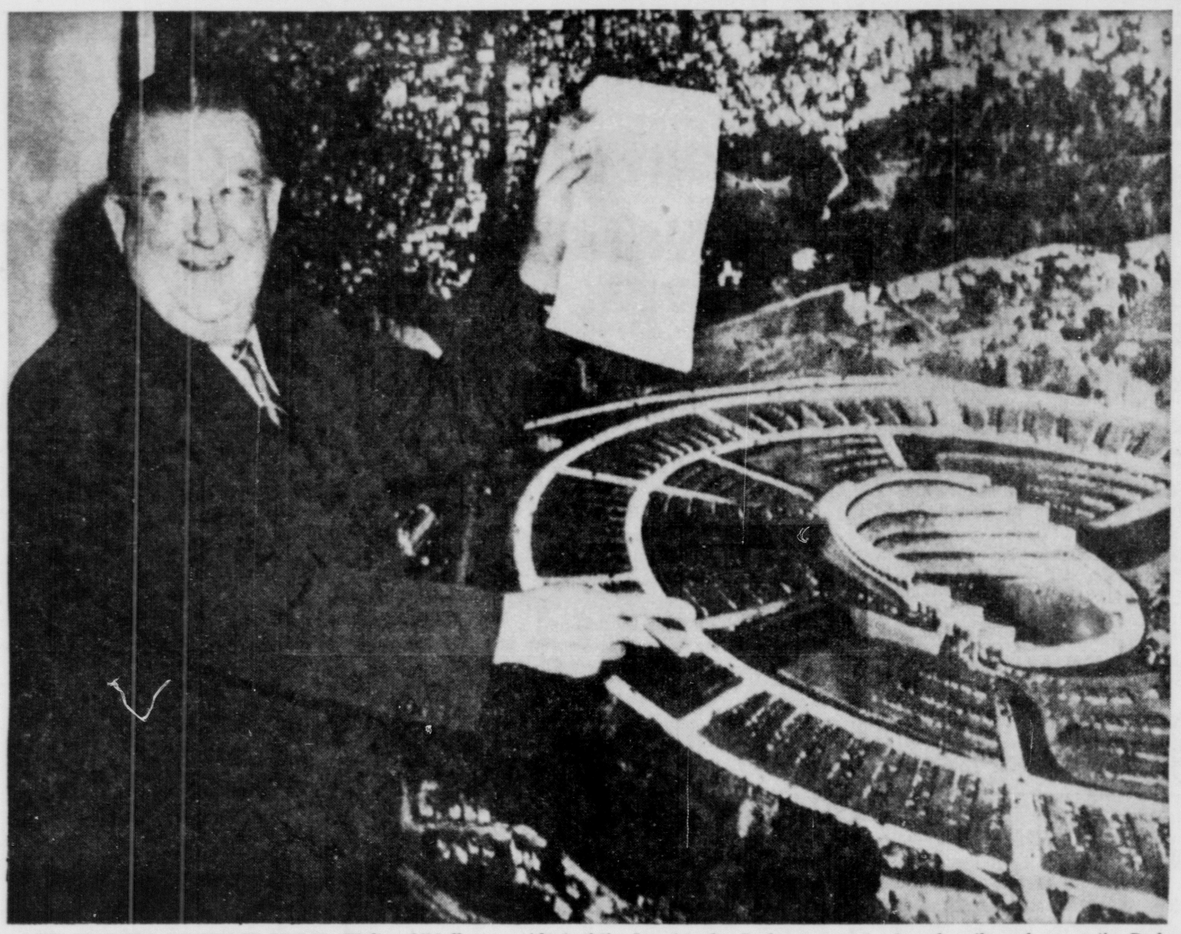

Visitor Was Unfamiliar With Pedestrian Signals

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A visitor unfamiliar with pedestrian traffic signals telephoned police headquarters Tuesday asking directions to the state Capitol.

Desk Sgt. M. K. Gunby asked the caller his location.

The man stepped outside his phone booth, then returned:

"I'm at the corner of 'Walk' and 'Don't Walk.'"

NEW STADIUM CONTRACT LEGAL. Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, wears a broad smile and waves the Dodgers' contract over an artist's conception of the proposed Dodger stadium. The California Supreme Court upheld the much protested Chavez Ravine Dodger contract with the city of Los Angeles, Tuesday, paving the way for the construction of the new stadium. (UPI Telephoto)

Maravilla Faces Ray Tonight In Debut On TV

CHICAGO (AP)—Roque Maravilla of Boise, Idaho, a 22-year-old light heavyweight with 18 knockouts to his credit, tonight makes his national TV boxing debut against the No. 5 contender, Sonny Ray.

Ray, a 23-year-old counter-puncher and body-pummeller who came up through Chicago's small clubs, has won 8 of his last 9 bouts and is a 2-1 favorite.

In his last outing Nov. 14, Ray made an impressive but losing battle with the No. 1 rated contender, Tony Anthony, in Madison Square Garden. He also is the only fighter ever to defeat Jesse Bowdry, doing it three times.

Maravilla lost two of five starts in 1958, including a defeat by Eddie Cotton in his last time out, Dec. 11, in Boise. Cotton is among Ray's victims. Ray has a 19-6-5 record, including 7 knockouts.

Maravilla has 18 kayoes in a 29-4-2 record.

Michigan State Stars Sign Browns Contracts

CLEVELAND (AP)—Candidates for offensive tackle and defensive back—both from Michigan State—have signed 1959 contracts with the Cleveland Browns.

Tackle Francis O'Brien is a 6-foot, 230-pounder who was the club's third round draft choice last month.

Jimmy Wulff starred as a halfback in 1956 but missed the 1957 season with a broken leg and played only part of the time last fall for the Spartans. He was drafted in the sixth round a year ago.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Ray Bluth, star of the St. Louis Budweisers, leads a field of 94 men into the one-day semifinals of the All Star Bowling Championships today.

Bluth finished 24 games of qualifying action Tuesday with a 214 average and a total of 5148 in the four days. In his final six-game block, he rolled a series of 195-244-186-212-237-212—1286.

In second place was Lou Campi of Dumont, N.J., who had a 1275 series for a 24-game total of 5126.

Billy Welu of the St. Louis Falstaffs took third spot with 5107. Welu fired a 1277 series Tuesday.

Walter Ward, Lakewood, Ohio, held fourth place with a 1291 series making his four-day total 5086.

Ronnie Diamond of Dallas, Tex., beat Jack Fleck of New York City in a roll-off for 94th position. The two ended the regulation qualifying round tied at 4633.

The men will roll two six-game blocks today. Thursday the top 14, plus Don Carter and Buzz Fazio of St. Louis, 1958 champion and runner-up respectively, who are seeded into the finals, will roll.

In the women's event, Olga Gloor of Chicago easily topped the qualifiers with a 20-game total of 3959. The 38-year-old housewife rolled four-game series of 802 and 744.

Her nearest rival was Joan Holm, another Chicagoan, who had 3882 pins after tossing sets of 772 and 753.

The ladies roll another four-game stanza today after which the field will be cut for the finals.

Cliff Aultman, Geneva College basketball coach, and his wife, Miriam, are house parents of a men's dormitory on the Geneva campus. They have three boys — Bill, Biff and John.

Quinn Resigns Braves Post, Goes To Phils

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The only thing that eluded John Quinn in his 14 years as general manager of the Milwaukee Braves was a promotion.

Tuesday, after twice being passed over when bigger, better paying jobs became available in the Braves' front office, Quinn bolted to the Phillies at a healthy increase in salary.

His title will be the same as it was with the Braves—vice president and general manager. His pay will jump from $22,500 to around $35,000.

Quinn termed the change "the biggest decision I ever made in my life."

Before Quinn took the Braves in 1945, they hadn't won a National League pennant in 31 years and hadn't finished in the first division in 10.

Under his able direction, the Braves won a world championship, three NL pennants and finished in the first division 12 times. They also developed a farm system second to none.

The resignation of the rail-thin, 50-year-old Boston Irishman with craggy features left in its wake genuine sorrow among Braves' personnel.

Birdie Tebbetts Seen As Quinn's Successor

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Braves Executive Vice President Birdie Tebbetts, who has wanted the chores of departing General Manager John Quinn, apparently is going to be given the duties permanently, despite assertions to the contrary.

Quinn, passed over when Tebbetts was made executive vice president last fall, pulled out Tuesday to join the Philadelphia Phillies who gave him a healthy boost in pay.

Dodgers Pact For Stadium Ruled Valid

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Dodgers are going to break ground within a month on their new baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine.

The State Supreme Court gave the go ahead to owner Walter O'Malley Tuesday when it unanimously ruled his contract with the city of Los Angeles for the Chavez Ravine site is valid.

O'Malley called the decision "the first shutout of the season."

The high court's ruling was in a taxpayer's suit brought by attorney Phill Silver. His suit challenged the transfer of the land to the Dodgers because a clause in the deed by which the city obtained the property from the federal government stipulated it be used for public purposes.

Silver said he will appeal to the United States Supreme Court for a review, but he admitted the highest court might not entertain his petition on the ground it does not have jurisdiction.

"If the U. S. Supreme Court turns me down for a hearing, then I guess O'Malley has won and can build in Chavez Ravine," said Silver.

City. Atty. Roger Arnebergh said he can envision nothing that would block plans for the stadium now. He said the Dodgers can petition now to have the property rezoned.

NCAA Unit Drafting New Rule Liberalizing Subs In Football

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The NCAA Football Rules Committee is drafting a new rule liberalizing substitutions in football.

As the rule reads now, a player may return to the field only once in any quarter. The committee is framing the rule so that it will be liberalized for the benefit of the small colleges.

"We are not going all the way to unlimited substitution," said Acting Chairman H. O. (Fritz) Crisler of Michigan. "That would allow two platoons. We don't want that, but we want to free the rule so that the small colleges can get a single man in the game with greater ease.

"The smaller colleges are concerned, for example, with a possible injury to a quarterback, but they don't want platoons."

A subcommittee headed by Dr. Ellwood Geiges, secretary of the rules committee, will make one of three reports expected to come before the NCAA closing session today.

A subcommittee also is to report on whether goal posts are to stay where they are at the end of the field. Rather than place the crossbar at the goal line, the subcommittee is likely to widen the uprights, which would tend to encourage field goals.

The third report is on clarification of the use of hand and forearm in blocking. Crisler says there is considerable confusion by officials in interpreting the rule, which calls for one-arm offensive blocking.

Pittsburgh divided 22 games with Milwaukee last season. The Pirates lost only one season series in 1958, bowing to Philadelphia, 10-12.

Billy Casper Plans Defense Of Golf Crown

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Billy Casper, bulky enough to go bear hunting with a bass fiddle, is going to defend his title in Bing Crosby's 18th National Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament.

That news isn't so good for the 300 qualifiers who start the rounds on three courses Thursday, but this is: Cary Middlecoff, who walked off with most of the loot in 1955 and 1956, can't come.

Middlecoff is tied down back East on business.

Casper, of Chula Vista, Calif., won last year's event with a 277. And he teamed with Bob Reynolds, amateur and former Stanford football star, for second money in the pro-am.

Last year's pro-am was won by pro Jay Hebert and Roger Kelly, Los Angeles attorney, with a best ball total of 260. Hebert is back this year.

Singer Bing Crosby annually gives $15,000 to the tournament which he started in 1937 as sort of a friendly clambake in this picturesque Pacific coastal town. To that is added $35,000 by the television sponsor of the Sunday finals. The $50,000 total puts it with golf's richest prizes.

The take from admissions, programs and concessions go to charity. In the 13 years since the war, the Crosby tournament has netted more than $350,000, mostly for four youth centers.

There are a number of celebrities back this year, including comedian Bob Hope (handicapped at 10) and TV star Desi Arnez, with the highest amateur handicap — 13. Singer Gordon MaCrae has a six-stroke margin. He's paired with pro Frank Stranahan.

Hope is teamed with veteran Jimmy DeMaret and movie actor Randolph Scott with Canadian star Stan Leonard.

Forestry Association Will Meet On Jan. 22

LISBON—The Columbiana County Forestry Committee's annual winter meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 22, at St. George's Parish Hall, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent.

H. P. Garritt of the Muskingum Conservancy District at New Philadelphia will speak on "Utilization of Our Wood Products." The program will include a discussion on farm woodlot problems, reports of the school and community forest committee and the youth committee and remarks by James Ball, farm forester of Alliance.

A film, "From the Ridge to the River," will be shown.

The event is planned by the forestry committee in co-operation with the agricultural extension service and all persons interested in forestry are welcome, Lower said.

50 Attend Dinner Held By Fairview Grange

About 50 attended the annual coverdish turkey dinner of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

Mrs. Harley Ferguson reported on a regional meeting for Grange leaders last week at Washington where she attended groundbreaking ceremonies for a new national Grange building.

A comedy skit was presented by Mrs Elizabeth Hoffman and Mrs. Rosemary Little. A contribution of $14 was collected for the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Pearl Cullen and Mrs. Charles Mills and their social committee were in charge of the dinner. A birthday party will be held at the next meeting Jan. 27.

Scout Awarded Badges At Hookstown Meeting

Jerry Brower, member of Hookstown Boy Scout Troop 496, was awarded two merit badges at a meeting Tuesday evening, Donald Morgan, assistant scoutmaster, announced.

They were for citizenship in the home and for pets.

A swimming trip to the Community Center in Weirton was discussed. James Anderson, scoutmaster, said the trip would be only for those boys active in the troop.

The adult troop committee will meet Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church near Laughlin Corners.

Midland Congregation Will Elect On Jan. 21

Red Cross Gives Certificates

11 Students Finish First Aid Class

Eleven East Liverpool High School boys received certificates Tuesday afternoon after completing a Red Cross first aid class taught at the school.

Louis Venditti was instructor for the first such course and was assisted by Mrs. Grace Brown and Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, who presented the certificates.

They are shown demonstrating various phases of their training while others review the work. Venditti is at the extreme left and Mrs. Brown is in the left background.

The semester course was presented by the Red Cross with the school co-operation. It included first aid instruction along with health and Civil Defense training.

Receiving certificates were Marvin Anderson, John Fellure, Larry Green, Gerald Grimm, Joseph Kent, Walter Long, Dan McCartney, Robert Milne, Morley Nardine, Thomas Sell and John Ward.

Mrs. Jones has instructed girls in using equipment in the first aid room in previous years but this marked the initial course covering Red Cross first aid.

Venditti, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Jones took the advanced Red Cross first aid course last summer.

Ohio Uses Actors To Sell State As Industrial Site

CLEVELAND (AP) — With the help of three Hollywood actors, the state of Ohio hopes to sell the Buckeye State as a good place for industry. The actor-salesman will appear in a 28-minute color movie costing $75,000.

Some of the studio shots were started Tuesday and the three visiting actors will be here until Friday.

The principals:

Brian Donlevy—The vice president of a New York company seeking a place to relocate.

Otto Kreuger—The Ohio industrialist who invites the New Yorker to consider a site in this state.

Reed Hadley — The man who helps Kreuger show the New Yorker around, eventually selling him on moving to Ohio.

The script, entitled "Ohio—The Growth State," was written by Frank Seidel, a Clevelander long experienced in television.

The appropriation is coming from a long-dormant fund of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

When it is completed, the movie will be shown outside Ohio to interest people in establishing industrial or business firms here.

U.S. Appeals To Airlines On 'Share Profits'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government called on the nation's six biggest airlines today to justify their agreement to share profits when one is shut down by a labor strike.

The Civil Aeronautics Board convened a special hearing to get arguments pro and con on the plan. The airlines exchanged 3½ million dollars under the plan through November as a result of strikes. December figures have not yet been announced

Signatories to the plan are Eastern, American, United, Capital, Trans World and Pan American.

Guy Farmer, former chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, was set to argue in behalf of the airlines that the pact will tend to present a solid industry stand against airline strikes and thus tend to discourage such shutdowns.

Fire Destroys Ohio Church

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Massive, steel-towered Grace Methodist Church, a landmark here since its construction in 1895, was destroyed in an early morning fire today.

Only the towers and the stone exterior remained standing.

Colin Campbell, a member of the board of trustees, estimated the damage at $750,000 to $1,000,000.

A stone parish house about 15 feet away was badly damaged, but there was no immediate loss estimate. The parish house held the church's valuable library.

Sparks ignited the roofs of two houses and a gasoline station nearby, but firemen moved quickly and extinguished them.

No one was hurt.

The church, largest in Washington Court House, had a seating capacity of about 1,000. It is located about two blocks from the center of town and it's towers made it one of the community's tallest buildings.

The fire department here received its first alarm at 3 a.m. Fire departments from eight neighboring communities sent men and equipment. In all, about 60 firemen fought the blaze.

The church itself was lost, but firemen brought the parish house fire under control by 4:20 a.m. Several small isolated fires continued to burn in the church wherever small streams of escaping gas ignited.

Fire Chief George Hall said the fire's origin has not been determined, but he said defective wiring in the belfry may be to blame.

Due West Virginia Legislature

Bill Designed To Overhaul Finance, Administration

CHARLESTON (AP) — Bills designed to overhaul the State Department of Finance and Administration and to create a new Department of Correction may be placed before the 54th Legislature opening today.

The Joint Committee on Government and Finance and the Commission on Interstate Cooperation considered the bills at a meeting here yesterday, but did not recommend their passage.

The Commission on Interstate Cooperation heard the secretary of the State Teachers' Retirement Fund report that the fund is actuarilly unsound as it presently exists.

Dr. Richard E. Hyde advised against any increase in benefits at this year's session of the Legislature. But while saying the fund could meet all obligations if liquidated tomorrow, he questioned whether it was sound for over the long run.

Hyde did recommend that if the Legislature wants the fund to be actuarilly sound, then it would have to provide more money. Legislative Auditor Clarence Koontz recommended in his report on the fund that no liberalization in benefits be voted this year and that a full actuarial study be completed before such increases are voted by the Legislature.

The committees did not recommend, however, passage of the bills concerning the Department of Finance and Administration and the proposed Department of Correction.

A wrangle resulted over the finance agency bill. The agency's purpose, when created by the 1957 Legislature, was to consolidate a number of accounting, fiscal and personnel functions into one department. George B. Vieweg Jr. was appointed its commissioner.

House Minority Leader George H. Seibert Jr. (R-Ohio) led the Republican attack on the bill to overhaul the department. The bill was drafted by a subcommittee and was explained yesterday by Koontz.

Seibert questioned Koontz closely to bring out that the bill, instead of simply amending the present law, would repeal the 1957 enactment and re-create the department under a new act.

The far-reaching bill to create a new Department of Correction was the outgrowth of studies of state penal and correctional institutions. It was drafted by the West Virginia Crime and Delinquency Council.

Meat Packing Film Screened

Rotary Also Hears Official Of Concern

A half-hour color film showing scenes of meat packing at the Austin (Minn.) plant of George A. Hormel & Co. was screened when the Rotary Club met Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel. Jim Riggs was program chairman.

Riggs introduced D. C. Kready of Pittsburgh, who narrated the film and told of a new anesthetic process now used by the Hormel firm for humane slaughtering.

With the new process, animals are now dead only 60 seconds before butchering.

A fully automatic hide puller also has been installed, producing a higher grade of meat because it is not bruised or scored. Speed and cost savings are also realized, he said.

The film showed slaughtering methods, skinning, cutting and various other processes in preparing meat for the markets.

Preparation of canned and other special meats also was shown. John Watson, high school senior, was projectionist.

Guests were present from Pittsburgh, Weirton, Cincinnati and the National Biscuit Co. Dean Wilhelm, president, presided.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make cabbage sauce?

A. Shred ½-head cabbage very fine and mix with 2 chopped green peppers, 1 cup diced celery, 3 tablespoons chopped nuts, 1 cup boiled dressing, and 4 tablespoons chili sauce. Chill for several hours before serving. This is good when served with broiled fish instead of the usual tartar sauce.

Q. How can I lengthen the life of an enamel pan?

A. Before the new enamel pan is used, place it in cold water and put on the stove until the water boils. Allow the pan to cool in the water and its life will be lengthened.

Q. How can I make blue fabrics hold their color longer.

A. Soak them in a solution of one tablespoon of salt to one quart of water and they will hold their color longer.

Unexpected Arrival

COLDWATER, Mich. (AP) — The Branch Community Health center had to stretch its plans to celebrate the birth of the 10,000th baby since it opened in 1939. Mrs. Ehrle Crandall gave birth to twins and No. 10,001 was included in the celebration, too.

Postal Receipts Of $245,394 Set Record For City

Postal receipts reached an all-time high last year, totaling $245,394, to top the previous high set in 1954 by roughly $12,000, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown announced today.

The receipts include funds received from the sale of stamps and envelopes, box rentals and meter machines, Brown said. They do not include money order fees.

The receipts last year were up nearly 5 per cent over the $233,302 registered in 1954, the previous peak, and showed a 7 per cent gain over the $228,056 received in 1957, Brown said.

Since 1948, the receipts climbed 27½ per cent from the $178,040 listed 11 years ago, the postmaster continued.

Cancellations during December totaled 925,900, a decrease of 11.2 per cent from 930,200 in December, 1957. Howerer, Brown said, the decrease is not a true figure since five more places were using postage meters than in 1957.

Metered mail is not counted in the cancelations, he explained. Neither is bulk mail nor mail carrying third and fourth class rates.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: My little niece was abandoned by her mother and is now living with my brother and his second wife. The stepmother hates the little girl and makes no bones about it. My brother treats her son like his own but she does not reciprocate.

One day last winter the stepmother left this child on my doorstep at 6:30 in the morning. Apparently she had misbehaved. When I found her at the front door, she was almost frozen.

The child's home life is astrocious. My brother won't work and their house is a one-room shack. When I buy the child clothes which she needs badly, her stepmother takes them back and gets something for her son. This has happened so many times I refuse to buy anything more.

Is there something I can do, to get her away from his horrible life? The girl would be welcome in my home anytime. Please advise me.—ANXIOUS AUNT.

-:-

Yes, there is plenty you can do—and I hope you won't waste another minute. Call the Child Welfare Bureau and ask them to investigate this situation.

If their inquiry supports your story, they will see that the little girl is taken out of the home and placed elsewhere.

Since you are an aunt and would like to have custody of the child, express these thoughts to the welfare agency and they will see that the case is turned over to the courts for review. Good luck.

Nothing To Lose

Dear Ann Landers: What can we do about neighbors who are so mean to our children that they make life miserable?

They have a rule that everything that goes over the fence on their property is theirs. In the past year my kids have lost two footballs, a basketball, three handballs and a hoola hoop.

My husband and I are peace-loving people. We get along with everyone. These neighbors have children and we treat them nicely. Please tell us what to do. It's terrible living next door to people who act like this.—OTHER CHEEKERS.

-:-

Dear Other Cheekers: There's no pont in coasting along. The situation will get worse, not better, in the absence of affirmative action.

I suggest you phone the neighbors and invite them over for a cup of coffee and a little discussion. It could be that there is some area of misunderstanding.

Perhaps your kids are doing more than you know about and the neighbors are punishing them.

You have nothing to lose and much to gain. If they are not willing to discuss the matter, then tell your children these people are unreasonable and to be especially careful to keep their belongings off the neighbor's property.

Life Of Riley

Dear Ann: What do you think of a guy like this? We have three children. I work all day in an office and make a modest salary. My husband collects $26 a week unemployment compensation and gives me $15 to pay the babysitter. He spends the rest of it bumming around playing pinball machines and shooting dice.

When he comes home at night he flops on the sofa and demands dinner. I have to rush home from the office, straighten up the house and make a meal.

If I say one word about being tired he says "What from? You sit in an office all day."

Sometimes I get so mad I'd like to knock his block off. Please tell me what to do.—TIRED OF WEARING THE PANTS.

-:-

If you are "Tired Of Wearing The Pants" why don't you hand them to your husband and put on a housedress? He'll never go to work so long as you bring home the pork chops. Why should he?

Tell him you're quitting your job in two weeks and that he'd better line himself up employment at once. If he refuses, let him hang his hat with his pinball machine buddies.

Confidentially

TO PICKLE-PUSS: If he's "nutty as a fruit-cake" why didn't you give him the air and refuse to accept that fur stole? Looks as if you want to run with both the hare and the hounds. It won't work, Toots.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Trustees Sought For County Clinic

LISBON — The Executive Committee of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council and spokesmen for the County Public Health League, at a meeting Monday, requested county commissioners to appoint three trustees to administer the affairs of the county tuberculosis clinic, which is located on the third floor of the Courthouse.

Ten attended the meeting in the County Agricultural Extension office. Nominating and finance committees were appointed and prospective changes in the organization were discussed.

The council's annual meeting is scheduled Thursday, Jan. 29, at 8 p. m. at St. George's Parish Hall.

Joe Black of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1952 was the first Negro baseball pitcher to win a World Series game.

Specialist Knows Amazing Things About The Noses

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — It's amazing what Ralph Riggs knows about noses.

"The nose of a Negro," says specialist Riggs, "is designed as an air cooler. The Caucasian's nose is an air heater."

Dr. Riggs, of Louisiana State University, got onto the subject while addressing a seminar on nose surgery Tuesday at the College of Medical Evangelists.

"You can pretty generally figure," he said, "the wider the nose the warmer the climate."

Another thing about noses. They are part of the mechanism the body uses to make you turn over at night.

"In 70 per cent of the cases," said Dr. Riggs, "I can tell what side a person sleeps on by examining his nose. Really.

"A person is directed by his nose to turn over every hour or so. One side of the nose takes it easy while the other side takes over the task of doing most of the breathing. If you sleep on one side more than the other it will show up in your nose."

Marriage Licenses Dip In County During 1958

LISBON — The 1958 recession apparently got into Dan Cupid's line of sight.

At least fewer of his arrows found their mark.

Probate Court reported 762 licenses issued last year—99 less than recorded in 1957.

New Officers Assume Posts In Pittsburgh Ceramic Group

New officers, headed by Richard W. Ricker of New Kensington as chairman, assumed their duties Tuesday night when the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society held its first 1959 meeting at Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh.

Ricker automatically moved up from the post of chairman-elect, to which he was named a year ago. He is associated with the Alcoa Research Laboratory in New Kensington. The section's new chairman - elect, who will assume office in January 1960, is Edwin Ruh of the Harbison - Walker Refractories Co. in Pittsburgh. He served as vice chairman last year. The retiring chairman is Ralph L. Gibson of New Castle.

Other new officers are: Frank H. McRitchie of Pittsburgh, vice chairman; Neill M. Brandt of Pittsburgh, secretary, and Willard B. Midgett of Pittsburgh, treasurer. McRitchie formerly was secretary. Midgette succeeded Frank Jansma of Washington, Pa., as treasurer.

At its session last night, the ceramic section heard an address on "Research In the Ceramic Tile Industry" by Dr. J. Vincent Fitzgerald, research director of the Tile Council of America, which has headquarters in New York City. He discussed technical problems encountered in the manufacture, use and installation of ceramic floor and wall tile.

The organization announced it has ceased publication of its small monthly magazine, called The Pittsburgh Ceramist, because of "problems associated with editing, producing and supporting the publication." In the future it will issue one printed "directory issue" each fall, sending letters to its members each month in advance of meetings rather than the small magazine.

At the next meeting Feb. 10, E. L. Talbot will discuss "Crystal 'M' Fireproof Inorganic Papers and Insulation Materials."

3,500 Dog Licenses Sold With Week To Go

Columbiana County residents who own dogs over 3 months old must purchase a license by Tuesday or a penalty of $1 will be added to the regular fee of $2.

A total of 16,153 dog licenses were sold in 1958, Reichenbach said.

Under Space Flight Test Conditions

Woman Spent 7 Days In Isolation Chamber--4 Days More Than Man

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—If Miss Zelma Arment proved anything by her long stay in a darkened isolation chamber, it might well be this:

Women may be better qualified than men to make flights into outer space.

Miss Arment, a 38-year-old civilian technician for the Air Force, did something last summer that no man has been able to do under test conditions.

She spent seven straight days in a dark, silent room, devoid of all contact with the outside world.

That's four days more than anyone else—man or woman — has been able to take.

The test was conducted at nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. Details of the experiment, classified until now, were released Tuesday.

Asked why she believed she she could stand the test when others doubted that they could, Miss Arment replied:

"I feel like I'm a little more stable than men. I think a lot of women are.

"I think you'll find that when some big upheaval comes along, a man might have a nervous breakdown. A woman might have hysterics for a half-hour, but she'll get over it and take the thing in stride."

The Air Force used the isolation chamber at Wright Air Development Center for the experiment. The WADC's aeromedical laboratory, at Wright-Patterson, conducted the test.

There is no light, no sounds from the outside when the door is shut. Just darkness.

"I couldn't see a thing," Miss Arment said Tuesday at Alamogordo, N. M., where she is on temporary duty at Holloman Air Force Base.

"Oh, yes, I got bored to an extent. I did a little writing. I wrote a diary. I used a finger of my left hand for a line to guide my right hand . . . it ran some 30 pages."

What did she think of?

"The future. My work. What I'd like to do. My ambitions."

Her food supply in the refrigerator lasted almost the full seven days. She said she rationed herself on the cold meats, vegetables, sandwiches, juices, snacks, candy and dessert.

Her emotional and physical well-being were relayed to scientists outside the chamber by means of wires attached to her body that transmitted her every sensation.

Sampling Of Letters

Ohioans' Opinions 'Split' In Young Snub Of Lausche

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sampling of letters showed an even split today in Ohioans' opinion of a recent snub by Sen. Stephen M. Young (D - Ohio) against Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio).

"Personally, I think it was a master stroke," said a man in Cleveland. A Springfield man said his first reaction was: "Man, that's wonderful."

A woman in Springfield went the other way and said Young should learn to "act like an adult." Others said he was guilty of bad manners.

The feelings were voiced in letters to Young concerning his refusal to walk down the Senate aisle with Lausche for the new senator's swearing-in on the opening day of Congress.

Young said his act was prompted by Lausche's refusal to give him a clear endorsement in his campaign against Republican John W. Bricker. The two have since said they mean to get along together, anyway.

A woman in Batavia, Ohio, didn't like Young's gesture at all.

She wrote: "When you seek additional publicity, kindly keep in mind that an uncounted many voted not for you but against Mr. Bricker."

In the same vein, a man in Dayton said:

"I voted to send a second Democratic senator to Washington from our state in order to achieve some degree of cooperation. . . .

"While your intent may have been to insult Lausche (not commendable in itself) you have also slapped at the voters who elected both of you."

A man in Akron said he regretted not to be able—up to the present time—to address Young as "honorable."

An Ashland man didn't see it that way at all.

"I was glad to see from the papers that you gave Sen. Lausche a dose of his own medicine," he wrote. "He, if consistent, should admire you very much for your independence."

A Middletown man said: "It just confirms what we have always known—that you are independent and have the courage of your convictions."

"As one good Democrat to another," said a man in Defiance, "I think you deserve the plaudits of all good Democrats in Ohio."

Mail on the subject has been light—no more than about 75 letters in all.

Young told a reporter he is not at all displeased with the response.

"Usually, most of the people who write are the ones who disapprove," he said with a grin.

Mother Admits Beating, Cutting Her 3 Children

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP)—An Englewood housewife told officers from a hospital bed Tuesday that she struck her three children with an iron bar, then slashed their throats with a razor before turning the blade on herself.

Mrs. Opal Wax, 28, and the children were taken to hospitals where doctors said all will recover. The eldest youngster, Marjorie, 9, suffered a fractured skull when struck by a 2½-pound trailer hitch.

Police Sgt. Glenn Benson said Mrs. Wax told him she was despondent because her husband lost a leg in an accident two years ago and has been unemployed for long periods since then.

Extra Firing Stage Ordered For Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has ordered an extra firing stage that could permit use of the Atlas missile for shots to the vicinity of Mars and Venus.

It announced today the award of a contract for the upper stage to Convair Astronautics Division of General Dynamics. Convair makes the huge Atlas intercontinental missile. Company officials said the contract would amount to about seven million dollars in its first year.

The new upper stage will contain a high-powered rocket engine designed to kick vehicles to gravity freeing speeds.

One apparent use for the Atlas-upper stage combination would be to launch a manned satellite under the Project Mercury program.

Doctor Says Threats Made By Steelworker

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Jack Little testified in Joseph Sabatino's manslaughter trial Tuesday that the retired steelworker had threatened him shortly before Little's wife and a party guest were fatally wounded.

The two men were neighbors and had feuded over a swimming pool in Dr. Little's yard. Last July 21, Mrs. Pauline Little, 32, and Roland Page, 30, were slain as the climax of another argument over the pool and the fence around it.

Dr. Little recounted how he and Sabatino scuffled, were separated by some of his swimming party guests, and then heard Sabatino say, "I'll make you sorry. I will get even with you."

It will take off from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio, and pass within five miles of Washington Court House, Ohio, then go on to Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and back to Dayton.

Fist-Swinging Marks Parley Of Teamster Local

CINCINNATI (AP)—After a turbulent, fist-swinging meeting Tuesday night, Teamsters Union Local 100 still had its old officers, although the top two were arrested on disorderly conduct charges.

The meeting, called to ratify results of an election of officers, erupted when defeated President George P. Starling tried to adjourn it.

That's when the fisticuffs started and a 50-man police riot squad took over, squelching the disorder in about 15 minutes.

Ray Halderman, outgoing local vice president, filed a disorderly conduct warrant against Starling. Fred Dietschle, a union member, filed a similar charge against Halderman.

The election unseated all but one of the old officers, most of them favorable to Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa. The election, challenged by defeated candidates, was upheld in Common Pleas Court.

Walter G. Schulz, who won the presidency in the election, said he moved to have the election ratified. It was seconded, he said, but Starling refused to entertain it, and instead recognized a later motion for adjournment.

Basic Inhibitions Needed In Childhood

Many current articles about poor readers or juvenile delinquents or children who are called "accident prone," seem to arrive at the conclusion that nearly all such youngsters are emotionally disturbed. No one doubts that emotional disturbances can hamper some children's reading, cause some to go wrong or predispose others to accidents. But to assume that emotional disturbance is the major cause in itself, and that all that is needed to reduce poor reading, delinquency and accidents is to focus on psychiatric therapy, strikes me as silly. It may make interesting reading, and help parents to ease their consciences as to their responsibilities, but it lacks perspective and diverts attention from basic things parents and teachers can do something about.

By Garry Meyers

AS DR. EMMETT Betts of the Betts Reading Clinic, Haverford, Pa., has pointed out, any child who can't read, or reads poorly, is inevitably disturbed emotionally as a result.

While psychiatric diagnosis and therapy may give him needed relief, he still must acquire many skills if he is going to read or read better. And there are usually more persons available to help a child learn to read than to give him peace of mind therapeutically.

An occasional youth who comes in conflict with the law may, with psychiatric treatment, gain more self - control and become better equipped to conform to normal standards of good citizenship. But, as a rule, he has stored up bad attitudes and habits, or lacks good ones necessary to enable him to exercise self - control and respect for the rights of others.

WHILE POSSIBLE it's difficult to supplant overnight these habits and attitudes, practiced to some degree from infancy.

So let us face reality and realize that learning to read is a long, continuous process. And safety and citizenship at any age depend chiefly on what has gone before in the child's experience and development.

Without some basic inhibitions exercised from the child's early years how is he to become transformed into a good citizen and be protected by safe attitudes and habits?

More psychiatrists are needed, of course, to help children, parents and teachers. But let us not expect them to be magicians.

My bulletins, "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed" and "Often Getting Hurt and Breaking Things," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Jobless In December Back Over 4 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped back above four million in December as employment declined seasonally with curtailment of outdoor work in winter weather.

The government reported that employment fell by 680,000 in December, dropping from 64,973,000 to 63,973,000.

Unemployment increased by 275,000 to 4,108,000 compared with 3,833,000 in November. This was the largest increase among the idle since last June when unemployment reached 5,437,000-the recession high.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Satiety Holds Key To Weight Control

Come to dinner — it's not fattening. Here is the menu: Piping hot clear soup, a satisfying serving of lean meat, a potato or a roll, a green vegetable and, for dessert, a fruit whip.

Ida Jean Kain

Overweights, you need not resort to semi-starvation diets in order to lose weight. Know the score on satiety values of food and you can not only be well nourished, but you can feel well fed on low calorie fare. Here are the fascinating facts:

There is a sound, scientific reason why certain foods appease hunger more than other foods do —completely apart from the calorie story. The satiety value of food is a measure of the extent to which a food gives a sense of well-being and satisfaction. This can be measured in two ways: the length of time the food remains in the stomach and the amount of gastric juice stimulated by the food.

MEAT HAS THE greatest satiety value of all foods — it "sticks to the ribs" longest. Clear soups and broths, because of the meat extractives contained in them, stimulate the gastric juices and also provide that important feeling of satisfaction.

While the satiety value of bread and potatoes is relatively low, when eaten with meat, a potato or a slice of bread significantly boosts the satiety value of the meal.

But be alert to this fact: studies reveal that when the amount of potato or bread is increased, the satiety value does not rise proportionately. There you are, the second helping of potato or bread adds far more in calories than in true satisfaction. In contrast, the satiety value of meat increases directly in proportion with the amount of meat eaten.

Green vegetables give a feeling of well being because of the quality of bulk they provide.

It's common knowledge that a sweet puts a finishing touch to a meal. But the important fact for the dieter to realize is that a simple dessert such as fruit, gelatine or custard made with skim milk, added to a low calorie meal helps you to feel satisfied with a smaller amount of food.

Now more facts on satiety foods. Whole milk is high on the list. The satiety value of skim milk can be enhanced by the addition of skim milk powder, for this adds protein.

The satiety value of eggs depends on how they are prepared. Even though the calorie count is exactly the same, hard cooked eggs are more satisfying than soft cooked eggs because they call forth the greatest amount of gastric juices.

Fish is considerably lower in satiety value than meat or eggs. Scientists explain that this is probably due to the fact that fish provides less of the extractives that stimulate the gastric juices.

HIGH SATIETY DIET

Cooper Cautions On Goldwater As Campaign Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky) said today Republicans will be laying themselves open to charges they are antilabor if they name Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) as their campaign chairman.

Cooper, who was the unsuccessful candidate of Senate Republican liberals for floor leader, said he has no objection to a proposal that GOP members running in 1960 pick the campaign director.

The Kentucky senator made it clear, however, that he regards Goldwater as the likely choice of the 1960 class if this proposal is approved. The Conference of all GOP Senators was called into session today to consider the matter.
